G. O. P. INCREASES LEAD 20 VOTES IN HOUSE, 8 IN SENATE

Returns From 17 States, Including Democratic Strongholds, Assure Republicans of Continued Control.

8 REPUBLICANS FOR SENATE VICTORS

Seven Others Leading—Nine of 19 Candidates for Democratic Seats Re-elected, All From the South.

By the Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—Republican control of Congress for another two years with an increased House majority, and a prospective increase in the Senate was a major part of the election sweep.
A net gain of 20 votes in the House was shown with complete returns from only 17 states, but most of the Democratic strongholds reporting.
Eight of the 15 Republican senatorial candidates had come in winners today, the seven others had substantial leads, while in 10 other states all of the Republican entrants were reported in the van.
For the 19 Democratic Senate seats, nine of the minority party had been returned winners—all from Southern states—while in the border and Western states the others were fighting an uphill battle.

Majority of Eight Expected.

That the general Republican landslide would seat several more Republican Senators was predicted confidently by Republican campaign managers, whose claims included a majority of eight to 10 in the next Senate. Both the Republican presidential and senatorial tickets were reported early today as ahead in California, Nevada, Missouri, Colorado, South Dakota, Idaho, Ohio and Washington. In Ohio former Gov. Frank B. Willis, who nominated Senator Harding at the Chicago convention, was reported in the lead.
Of the Democrats, Senator Underwood of Alabama, minority leader, was re-elected, and Representative Heflin chosen to succeed the late Senator Bankhead. A new face in the Senate on the Democratic side will be Representative Caraway of Arkansas, who defeated Senator Kirtland in the primary election yesterday. Among the Republican leaders re-elected were Senators Brandegee, Wadsworth, Dillingham, Watson and Penrose.
In the House, most of the veterans, both Republicans and Democrats, were re-elected, including Speaker Gillett, now holding the record for continuous service and elected for his fifteenth term. Former Speaker Cannon, who has served 22 terms, but not continuously, also was re-elected, as were Representative Mann of Illinois, former Republican leader, chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and other prominent committee chairmen.

Few Chairmanship Changes.

Comparatively few changes in committee chairmanships are expected in either Senate or House, but increases of Republican membership and decrease of the Democrats usually follows a marked change in political lineup.
Taxation, tariff and other fiscal measures will remain in charge of Senator Penrose, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, and Representative Fordney, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, both of whom were re-elected.
Senator Wadsworth of New York is expected to continue as chairman of the Senate Military Affairs Committee, and, under the seniority rule, Representative Kahn of California, also re-elected, will continue in like capacity for the House Committee.
Most of the important Senate Committee chairmanships remain in the hands of Senators not involved in yesterday's election.
By defeat of Senator Gronna of North Dakota, in the primaries, Senator Norris of Nebraska is next in line to head the Agriculture Committee. Senator Cummins of Iowa, chairman of the Interstate Commerce Committee, was reported in a hard fight, but leading his adversaries.

Elephants Head G. O. P. Parade

DAVENPORT, Ia., Nov. 3.—As soon as it became known last night that Harding was elected President, the manager of an act at a local vaudeville theater sent out three of his elephants with attendants to get into the procession which was formed here.
The big beasts headed a wild demonstration which paraded the streets with banners, bands, tin horns and red fire. The parade marched through dance halls and theaters and kept up the din until an early hour.

KRUEGER ADMITS HIS DEFEAT; KIMMEL IS BEHIND; KILLOREN WINS

and Kimmel was 7235 ahead of Miller, while Krueger was 6207 ahead of Hochdoerfer. But when 455 precincts, a little more than three-fourths of the city, had been completed, Killoreen was 3921 ahead of Jones; Kimmel was 2966 ahead of Miller, and Krueger was only 2251 ahead of Hochdoerfer.
The next compilation was for 542 precincts, slightly more than nine-tenths of the city. This showed Krueger 13 votes behind Hochdoerfer, the vote being 11,018; Krueger, 11,018; Krueger, 11,018. On learning of this figure, Krueger said he was beaten.
A compilation of 531 precincts, on the circuit judgeship contest, showed Killoreen to be 2105 ahead of Miller and 5214 ahead of Jones, and Kimmel to be 1173 ahead of Miller.
At 11 a. m. a compilation of 575 precincts out of 600 showed Kimmel as 406 votes behind Miller, and Krueger as 619 votes behind Hochdoerfer. Killoreen was leading Miller by 1892, and was leading Jones by 578.

A compilation of 585 precincts, at 1 p. m., showed Miller's election placing him 2174 ahead of Kimmel. At 2:30 p. m., 590 precincts were available, and these placed Miller as 406 votes behind Miller, who, however, still appeared to be elected to the third of the judgeships, being 3241 ahead of Richard A. Jones, the higher of the two defeated Democratic candidates. The lower vote of Charles B. Williams, Democrat, was due to his voluntary request that Miller and Jones, and not himself, be voted for by Republicans scratching their ballots.
Judge J. Hugo Grimm, Republican, was elected for a third six-year term by a vote larger than Harding's city vote, but his plurality will not make as large a showing as that of some other Republican city candidates, owing to the large vote of the highest defeated candidates.
In the Eleventh (North St. Louis) Congressional District, the latest figures show:
Hawes, D., 24,659.
Boggs, R., 22,180.
Seven Precincts Not Reported.
Tabulators compiling the St. Louis election returns for newspapers ended their tabulations by wards at 11:15 a. m. today with figures from 418 of the 600 precincts in the city. The vote was such a Republican landslide that the only offices in doubt were those for Circuit Judge, Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction, and Congressman from the Eleventh District.
However, the tabulators continued totaling results on the vote for President, Senator, Governor, Eleventh Circuit Judge, Circuit Attorney, Sheriff, Circuit Judges and Judge of the Court of Criminal Correction. In this tabulation it was found that seven precincts had been returned which had not reached the tabulators, and as there was no way of checking on them, the unofficial returns on these offices will be reported finally for only 593 of the 600 precincts. Official tabulation of the returns by the Board of Election Commissioners will begin probably tomorrow.

WEEKS, HUGHES AND HAYS MENTIONED FOR NEW CABINET

Daugherty, Root, Knox, Hoover, Smoot, Esch, Wood, Pershing and Wickensham Are Discussed.

By the Associated Press.
MARION, O., Nov. 3.—Although nothing authoritative has come from Senator Harding or any of his close advisers as to the probable Cabinet selections of the new administration, the campaign has been a series of head-on attacks by the Harding campaign train, has included repeated mention of several prominent Republicans for Cabinet posts.

In this current of unofficial and purely speculative talk two names have been heard with great frequency are those of Harry M. Daugherty and John W. Weeks of Massachusetts.

Throughout the campaign Daugherty has been more closely associated with Senator Harding than any other party manager, making many trips here and taking a large part in the formulation of the nominee's campaign strategy. These close contacts, together with the Senator's oft-repeated praise of Daugherty's services, has led to guesses in many quarters that the latter can sit in the new President's official family if he so desires. He is a lawyer, and has been mentioned most frequently as a possible choice for Attorney-General.

A former Senator, Weeks also has been a member of the Republican Campaign Executive Committee during the campaign. He is a graduate of the naval academy and a former member of the Senate Naval Committee, having been placed on the current of political speculation with the secretaryship of the navy.

Knox, Hughes, Root.
Among many names whispered by the self-constituted Cabinet makers in connection with the post of Secretary of State are those of Henry Cabot Lodge, Elihu Root, Philander C. Knox and Charles Evans Hughes. Senator Lodge, as chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, has led the fight against unreserved ratification of the treaty of Versailles, and Harding frequently has expressed high regard for his knowledge and judgment in international affairs.

Root and Knox both are former heads of the State Department, and Hughes, who was the Republican presidential nominee four years ago, has been a close student of the league fight.

Whether political history will repeat itself in the selection of William H. Hays, chairman of the Republican National Committee, as Postmaster-General is another question with the gossip has been busy themselves. The name of John T. King, National Committee chairman from Connecticut, also has been connected with the place in the same speculative way.

Hoover's Name Mentioned.
Herbert Hoover, the former Food Administrator, has been talked about in many quarters for many posts, but the gossip has assigned him most frequently to the Treasury and Interior departments. There also has been a theory circulated that Governor Atkinson of Ohio might be put in charge of the War Department in the hands of an army man instead of a civilian and might lature Republican the State can be redirected along Republican lines. Leaders of that party have complained for many years that the Democrats had so gerrymandered the State that it was virtually impossible to elect a majority of Republicans in the Senate.

Lacking sufficient returns and doubtful on returns received were the following:
Arizona 3 votes; New Mexico, 2; Oklahoma, 10; Tennessee, 12. Total, 25.

A resume shows: Harding, 376; Cox, 127; doubtful, 28. Total, 531.

Expelled Socialists Returned.
The League of Nations issue was stressed by Senator Borah of Idaho, prominent among the league's foes, in a statement declaring he regarded the election as "the triumph for nationalism and the death of the League of Nations."

None of the minor parties, the Socialist Farmer-Labor or Prohibition, figures in the presidential result. Socialist headquarters at Chicago claimed an increased vote and the party re-elected three New York Socialist Assemblymen who had been expelled. The first woman Socialist ever elected to the New York Assembly, Marion H. Laing, also was successful.

Eugene V. Debs, the Socialist presidential candidate, received the returns in Atlanta Penitentiary.

The Farmer-Labor candidate, Parley P. Christensen of Salt Lake City, had not been located at an early hour today.

Senator Harding, with the receipt of the ballot tidings—on his fifty-fifth birthday—announced plans for a vacation beginning next Friday. He will spend several days near Brownsville, Tex., and then tour the Panama Canal zone. Gov. Cox also is planning a vacation on a hunting trip in Mississippi.

New York, Ohio, the home of both Senator Harding and Gov. Cox; Illinois and Pennsylvania, furnished the largest Republican pluralities. The New York vote, where Gov. Smith, Democrat, and Nathaniel Miller, Republican, were neck and neck in the gubernatorial fight—was close to the million mark; Ohio was around 160,000; in Asia at the present ratio, about 800,000, and Pennsylvania about 400,000.

California Allen Law Adopted.
In California, where Senator Phelan, Democrat, was trailing far behind Samuel M. Shortridge, Republican, and with Senator Harding even farther ahead on the ticket, adoption of the alien and law amendment, relating to Japanese land tenure, had a wide majority.

Prohibition was a subject not re-

Wife of Laborer Leaves Note Saying She Was 'Tired of Life'

Mrs. Emma Fritsch, 26 years old, wife of a laborer, at noon today locked the doors of her house, 2243 Clark avenue, and wrote a note saying that she was weary of life. She then took her husband's revolver, fired three shots into it, apparently for the purpose of testing it, and fired the fourth bullet into her head. Neighbors, attracted by the shots, called the police, who broke down the door and found her body. Her husband, called from work, said he knew of no reason why she should wish to die.

would affect the result in those districts materially.

Newton is now serving his first term in the House of Representatives, having been placed on the Republican ticket in 1918 after Congressman Jacob E. Meeker, who had been renominated, died of influenza. He is a lawyer, 47 years old.

Eyer is now serving his fourth term in Congress, besides a term for which he claimed election, but was defeated by the Democratic majority in the House. He is a lawyer.

Hawes is a lawyer, former head of the St. Louis Police Board, and a leading advocate of good roads measures, which he promoted while serving as a member of the Legislature. He served overseas in the war period in the Intelligence Department of the army, with the rank of Major. His opponent, Boggs, was placed on the Republican ticket after the death of Otto F. Stifel, who was nominated in the August primary, and who killed himself soon afterward. The present Representative in Congress from the Eleventh District is William L. Igoe, who was not a candidate for renomination.

ONE NEGRO LOSES, ANOTHER LEADS FOR LEGISLATURE

With the One Exception Republicans Will Have Solid Delegation to Lower House From St. Louis.

Waltham M. Moore of 3025 Pine street, a negro, was leading the Democratic opponents, in partial returns this afternoon for the lower house of the State Legislature from the Sixth Representative District. Two members are elected from the district, and the partial returns showed Moore as running about 270 votes behind the other Republican nominee, William E. Canfield, but about 1200 ahead of John Keegan, the higher of the Democratic candidates.

Except for the uncertainty as to Moore and the defeat of Langston Harrison, a negro Republican nominee in the Third District, it appeared that the Republicans had elected a solid delegation in the lower house from St. Louis. There are 16 St. Louis members in the House. John J. Tatten, Democrat, was elected in the Third District over Harrison.

Probable Personnel.
There was only one Democrat in the lower house from St. Louis in the last Legislature. He was J. T. O'Brien of the Fourth District.

The probable composition of the St. Louis delegation in the lower house in the 1921 session of the Legislature is:

First District—George Elgel, John T. Manning, Frank R. Smith, all Republicans.

Second District—Charles Foster, Henry F. Weber, Frank L. Wetzel, all Republicans.

Third District—John J. Tatten, Democrat; Julius A. Ramsey, Maurice Rothachid, Republicans.

Fourth District—Frank O. Binner, Edward G. Davidson, Charles Straub, all Republicans.

Fifth District—Richard Goodenough, George W. Horner, both Republicans.

Sixth District—William E. Canfield, Republican; other seat in doubt between W. M. Moore, Republican, and John Keegan, Democrat.

Senator Warner Re-elected.
Frank R. Warner, Republican, was re-elected to the State Senate from the twenty-ninth Senatorial District. In the Thirty-third Senator Joseph H. Brogan, Democrat, was leading Joseph M. Ebeling, Republican, on partial figures. Michael Kinney, Democrat, had no Republican opponent in the Thirty-fifth District.

THE NEGRO LOSES, ANOTHER LEADS FOR LEGISLATURE

With the One Exception Republicans Will Have Solid Delegation to Lower House From St. Louis.

Thad M. Moore of 3025 Pine, a negro, was leading his race opponents, in partial re-election for the lower house of the State Legislature from the Sixth Representative District, when the partial returns came in from the other Republicans, William E. NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—A remarkable feature of the election in New York City was the Socialist vote.

For Eugene V. Debs, the party's presidential candidate, now imprisoned in the Atlanta Penitentiary for violation of the espionage act, were cast 131,856 votes, more than four times the total the Socialist candidate received here in 1916, when the vote was 31,788. Debs received more than a third as many votes as were cast for Cox's account.

Louis Waldman, Charles Solomon and August Claessens, Socialists, who were twice expelled from the New York Legislature, were re-elected. Waldman from the Eighth Manhattan Assembly District and Claessens from the Seventeenth.

Samuel A. Dewitt and Samuel Orr, who also were expelled by the Legislature last winter and then re-elected in a special election, and who subsequently resigned, were again elected from the Third and Fourth Bronx Assembly Districts, respectively.

The Fifth Bronx Assembly District elected the first woman Socialist to the New York State Legislature. She is Marion H. Loring, who defeated William Lyman, the Fusion candidate.

Socialist Headquarters Satisfied With Debs Vote.
CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Socialist headquarters today expressed satisfaction over the showing made by the party in its effort to elect Eugene V. Debs President, although he is serving a term in Atlanta Prison for violation of the espionage act. They said reports indicated that not only had the vote been increased for the national ticket, but that in some precincts Socialist candidates had run even with Republican and Democratic candidates, while in New York City they had elected four Socialist members of the Legislature, who had been ousted or resigned and had added a woman member to that body.

Brannetter, national secretary, last night sent a telegram to Debs, estimating that the total vote for the Socialist candidate for President would be nearly 3,000,000.

REPUBLICAN FOR CONGRESS IS APPARENTLY ELECTED IN TEXAS
Incomplete Returns Indicate Wurzback's Majority Over Lee in 14th District as 2000 to 2500.
SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 3.—Practically all doubt is removed as to the election of Judge Harry M. Wurzback, Republican, of Seguin, Tex., as Congressman from the fourth district. Incomplete returns from over the State indicate Wurzback's majority over Carlos Lee, Democrat, will be 2000 to 2500.

ATKINSON'S HOME PRECINCT CARRIED BY HYDE BY 35 VOTES
John M. Atkinson, Democratic candidate for Governor, failed to carry University City, his home town, and also was beaten in his own precinct.
University City gave Hyde 1325 votes and Atkinson 1282, a plurality of 53 for Hyde.
Atkinson's own precinct gave Hyde 505 and Atkinson 470, a plurality of 35 for Hyde.

30,000 Got Election Returns at 20 Schools By Post-Dispatch Service

Screen and Telemegaphone Reports Praised as Novel Educational Feature—Musical Entertainment Furnished Between Bulletins.

Approximately 30,000 persons heard the Post-Dispatch election returns at the public schools, with the largest crowds at the high schools. Cleveland leading with about 2500. All the principals expressed satisfaction with the service and pronounced the innovation a forward step in community service.

At Central High School fully 1200 persons, mostly students and their relatives, assembled by 8 o'clock. A program of entertainment had been arranged as at the other schools, consisting of student frolics and community singing. The Duplema Club of 22 girls sang, the Boys' Glee Club played, and the "Underclass" Jazz Band created laughter. Others contributing to the entertainment were the Glee Club and Ben Rosenberg with his one-stringed cigar box. Moving pictures were shown.

Service at Schools Praised.
Carl J. Baer, representing the Chamber of Commerce, and Stephen A. Douglas, principal, made brief addresses. Douglas said the Post-Dispatch idea in bringing the educational feature of election returns to the schools was "very excellent, kind and courteous to the community."

The Solder Boys' Orchestra, at Solder, played for an hour before the returns started. Miss M. Teresa Finn, instructor of music at the school, conducted singing. The audience of more than 2000 participating. Harry Manker, 15 years old, of 5354 Waterman, showed moving pictures with his own machine and reels.

John Rush Powell, principal, in an address, said it was gratifying to have election returns service in an educational enterprise, and for this we are deeply indebted to the Post-Dispatch. I hope to see the day when voting will be conducted in school buildings.

500 at Sunner High School.
At Sunner (Colored) High School about 500 persons assembled. Musical selections were given. Frank L. Williams, principal, said the community was delighted in having the service in its school.

The auditorium of the Grover Cleveland High School, 4253 Virginia avenue, was packed and many could not get in during the early part of the evening. Principal John J. Maddox estimated the crowd at 2500. During intervals when election bulletins were not being read a program consisting of musical numbers and moving pictures was carried out. A specialty was acrobatic work by the Syberg brothers, students of Cleveland High. D. H. Cleland, director of the high school orchestra, was in charge of the music.

Address by Percival Chubb.
An address was delivered by Percival Chubb of the Ethical Society. Stephen M. Wagner, a member of the Board of Education, praised the Post-Dispatch for its enterprise in furnishing the returns.

WIRELESS PHONE RELAYS RETURNS OF POST-DISPATCH

Bulletins Sent From 4312 DeTonty Street Acknowledged From Arkansas and North Dakota.

NEWS RE-SENT INTO CANADA

Camp Pike Radio Station Flashes Bulletins to Ships in Gulf of Mexico by Wireless Telegraphy.

The first use of a wireless telephone in St. Louis was the transmission last night of election bulletins of the Post-Dispatch from the residence of W. E. Woods of 4312 DeTonty street.

Not only did 100 owners of wireless telegraph stations in St. Louis receive the bulletins, but word was received from Little Rock, Ark., Ellendale, N. D., and other outside towns that they were catching the news. At Ellendale the bulletins were relayed by wireless telegraph into Canada and the Camp Pike radio station at Little Rock sent the bulletins on its wireless telegraph, ships in the Gulf of Mexico acknowledging receipt.

Music by Wireless.
As at other points in the city to which the Post-Dispatch sent its bulletins, the interim between news flashes was occupied by the playing of music. A phonograph was placed near the transmitter in the basement of Woods' home. A group of 20 radio students at Washington University who had been listening to the bulletins heard the music so plainly that they were enabled to dance.

In the home of L. A. Benson, 4842 Wisconsin avenue, three or four couples danced to the wireless music, Benson attaching a sound-amplifying device to the telephone receiver, depositing them on a table and shaping a horn out of a piece of paper.

Any owner of an elemental wireless receiving station can make a simple attachment enabling him to catch wireless telephone messages. The transmission instrument, however, is expensive. A elaborate device, The one in Woods' home has a range of 1000 miles, a sending device exceeded only by the Government station in the Bureau of Standards in Washington and a private installation in Pittsburgh.

From time to time as Benson read out the Post-Dispatch bulletins he requested those hearing his voice to notify the Benson Co. of 1306 Olive street, manufacturers of wireless equipment, in which Woods is a member of the firm, or the Post-Dispatch. Many owners of wireless outfits in St. Louis responded shortly that they were hearing very clearly.

Reports of Picking Up Bulletins.
Roy S. Glasgow, instructor in the engineering department of Washington University, sent word to Woods that he was getting all the bulletins very distinctly and that the music was louder than if played on a phonograph in the room in which the radio students were assembled.

Wood's wife, Ill., sent word that she was catching Woods' voice, as did Farmington, Mo. During the evening Woods got in communication with the Washington wireless telephone, the operator of which said that they were too busy sending out their own bulletins to try to catch anything from St. Louis.

Wife in Hospital Gets Returns.
Woods' wife in patient in St. John's Hospital. Woods had stretched a few wires above her bed and fitted for her a receiving headpiece. She received the wireless telephone bulletins throughout the evening, giving them to nurses and internes gathered about.

Willis G. Hadley, son of L. G. Hadley of 3247 Longfellow boulevard, sent word to the Post-Dispatch today that his wireless telephone bulletins had been received in his home, where several guests had assembled. The music sent by wireless was of sufficient volume to permit dancing.

Woods maintained the service until after 11 o'clock, when it became apparent that Harding had won. Ellendale, N. D., called by wireless telegraph to the wireless station maintained by Woods' partner, Benson, that it had caught the telephone bulletins and had transmitted them on its wireless telegraph, getting acknowledgments from points distant in Canada.

About 250 attended the Gardenview School meeting. The crowd outgrew a room and was moved to the gymnasium. A musical program was given.

At Blow School, the principal William B. Evans, had a large program, including recitations. The meeting was very orderly and the attendance about 200. Fanning School, F. M. Underwood, principal, used the blackboard to present returns, and had musical numbers by the school orchestra. About 250 persons attended.

777,000 PLURALITY FOR HARDING IN ILLINOIS

Entire Republican State Ticket Including the Legislature Elected.

CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Setting a record that will be hard to overcome without a greater outpouring of female voters than obtained yesterday, the Republicans polled an estimated plurality of 777,000 votes in Illinois for Senator Harding and Gov. Connelley, and did not fall short of that in electing Len Small of Kankakee, Governor, and William B. McKinley, Senator. Most of the Illinois Congressmen will be Republicans, while the entire State ticket, including the Legislature, and the Chicago and Cook County officers will be of the same party as the coming national administration.

Mayor Thompson's candidates were elected to Chicago offices, including Robert H. Crowe for State's Attorney by pluralities of from 4000 to 200,000.

Chicago with some 500,000 voters, delivered an estimated plurality of about 400,000 to Harding, 325,000 for McKinley and 200,000 for Len Small. Chicago defeated daylight saving.

Twenty-third Term for Cannon.
Former Speaker Joseph G. Cannon of Danville was elected to his twenty-third term in Congress and another former leader of the House, James R. Mann of Chicago, was re-elected.

HARDING TAKES LEAD WITH HALF OF OKLAHOMA VOTE IN
John W. Harrell, Republican, Goes Ahead of Scott Ferris for U. S. Senate.
OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., Nov. 3.—Senator Harding jumped into the lead in Oklahoma shortly before 2 o'clock this afternoon when unofficial and incomplete returns from 1-312 precincts out of 2445 in the State gave Harding 114,567 and Cox 113,637. Returns computed up to that hour had given Cox a lead of from 2000 to 4000.

John W. Harrell, Republican candidate for United States Senator from Oklahoma, also leaped into the lead when unofficial and incomplete returns from 1402 precincts out of 2655 in the State gave him 125,914, against 124,132 for Scott Ferris, Democrat. Ferris had proportionately maintained the same lead over his Republican opponent that Gov. Cox had held over Senator Harding throughout the early count.

Wood's wife, Ill., sent word that she was catching Woods' voice, as did Farmington, Mo. During the evening Woods got in communication with the Washington wireless telephone, the operator of which said that they were too busy sending out their own bulletins to try to catch anything from St. Louis.

Woods maintained the service until after 11 o'clock, when it became apparent that Harding had won. Ellendale, N. D., called by wireless telegraph to the wireless station maintained by Woods' partner, Benson, that it had caught the telephone bulletins and had transmitted them on its wireless telegraph, getting acknowledgments from points distant in Canada.

Underwood, principal, used the blackboard to present returns, and had musical numbers by the school orchestra. About 250 persons attended.

At Irving School about 200 persons attended and heard the returns with enthusiasm. The principal, Arthur C. Lathrop, has been in for some time and could not attend.

HYDE GRATIFIED, SAYS HE WILL KEEP ALL PLEDGES

Governor-Elect Says First Things He Will Urge Will Be Revision of Election Laws and Redistricting of State.

Arthur M. Hyde, Republican Governor-elect, talking over the long-distance telephone from his home in Trenton, Grundy County, Mo., today told a Post-Dispatch reporter he was "highly gratified."

When asked for a statement as to his policies in the administration of State affairs the Governor-elect said that with reference to patronage he would be glad to receive recommendations from the Republican organization, but that in making appointments he would give highest consideration to the fitness of the applicant to serve the public.

In reply to a question if there was one thing uppermost in his mind, and which he would attempt to accomplish at the outset of his term after taking office early next January, he said his first concern would be to bring about a revision of election laws and a reform in election practices with a view to insuring honest elections in all parts of the State.

To Urge Redistricting.
Next, he said, he would urge the fair redistricting of the State so that the Republican party would have a more equitable opportunity for representation in office.

Next in importance, he said, would be the forwarding of a general program of good service to the public by all branches of the State government.

In his campaign he pledged himself to bring about a better parole of the prison parole system so that hardened criminals would not be paroled through political influence and that first offenders without influential friends should have an even chance for parole. He said he would endeavor to provide better management for all State institutions.

Was Progressive in 1912.
Hyde is 42 years old. He is an attorney and automobile salesman. His family consists of Mrs. Hyde and a daughter, Caroline, 8 years old.

Hyde was born in Princeton, Mo. He was educated at Oberlin College in Ohio and the University of Michigan and Iowa. His father, Ira B. Hyde, now 83 years old, was Representative in Congress from a Missouri district from 1872 to 1874.

The Governor-elect has had little experience in State affairs, but has been politically active for several years. He left the Republican ranks for the Progressive party in 1912 and in that year was the Progressive candidate for the office of Attorney-General of Missouri.

Returning to the Republican party in 1916 he campaigned the State in the interest of the Republican ticket on which Judge Henry Lamm was candidate for Governor.

Because of his local office fight to rid Trenton and Grundy counties of saloons Hyde has been classed as a "dry." His candidacy was inspired by the Missouri Anti-Saloon League.

Two White Men Shot to Death, Several Others Wounded in Fight Preceding Mob Action.
ORLANDO, Fla., Nov. 3.—Five negroes have been burned to death and another shot to death as a result of a fight which started at the polls at Ocoee, near here, last night, after election officials had refused to permit Mos Norman, a negro, to vote on the ground that he had failed to pay his poll tax.

Two white men were shot and killed and several others, including a former Police Chief, were wounded in the fight which preceded the wholesale burning of the negroes. ## SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhance its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by moving the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous.

THREE MEN HOLD UP FILLING STATION MANAGER, TAKE $50

Watchman's Appearance Drives Away Highwaymen About to Search Two Victims.

Three men drove to the Florissant Oil Filling Station, 2117 Palm street, at 8:20 o'clock last night, and after having the machine tank filled with gasoline two of them drew revolvers and held up the manager, Henry Friedman, 2164 Farlin avenue, and his friend, Benjamin Bellman, 3221 North Twenty-first street. They took $50 from the manager and the cash register, $8 from Bellman, and then drove away.

Two highwaymen who held up Fred Carpenter, 5414 Bartmer avenue, and Arthur Kehl, 2557 Chamberlain avenue, near Belt and Vernon avenues, at 8 p. m., made them raise and lower their arms several times when automobiles passed the spot. They were finally about to search the pair when a watchman came around the corner and the highwaymen ran away.

Two men answering the same description stopped Milton R. Schuette of 5092 Cabanne avenue, as he was at Cabanne and Academy avenues, at 12:30 a. m. today and robbed him of $2.85, a knife, some oil stock and a watch inscribed, "To Lieut. M. R. Schuette, Air Service." He asked for the return of the watch as a keepsake and present, but the robbers paid no attention to the request.

CALIFORNIA 3 TO 1 FOR LAND AMENDMENT

Early Returns Show Heavy Vote for the Anti-Alien Measure.

By the Associated Press.
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 3.—The California alien law, restricting land tenure by Orientals, on the face of returns from 314 precincts had a favorable vote of about three to one. The vote was yes, 55,412; no, 22,481.

PENROSE RUNS BEHIND TICKET

Pennsylvania Women Scratch Boss Who Opposed Suffrage.
HARRISBURG, Pa., Nov. 3.—Early returns in Pennsylvania indicate that Boies Penrose has been returned to the United States Senate by Pennsylvania voters, but that his vote has run far below that received by others on the Republican ticket. Throughout the State the new women voters have "knifed" the political leader who so strongly opposed suffrage and who was responsible for the nomination of Senator Harding at the Chicago convention.

Mobile Ward Goes for Harding.
MOBILE, Ala., Nov. 3.—The Seventh Ward, one of the largest in this Democratic city, went for Harding in the election yesterday, 328 to 244.

Reed Voted Straight Democratic Ticket.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
KANSAS CITY, Mo., Nov. 3.—Senator James A. Reed cast a straight Democratic ballot and possibly came as near voting for the League of Nations as he ever will when he voted yesterday. Judges and clerks of election forgot all about other voters as the Senator took his tally. "Here it is—look it over," said the Senator, with a smile, as he displayed to the gaze of the election officials a straight Democratic ticket.

PHONOGRAPHS AND RECORDS

Plays any record made Yet costs no more

THE ULTONA, pictured below, enables The Brunswick to play every record with the right needle. They are all there, ready for instant use, with no more adjustment than a simple twist of the wrist.

With the Ultona you are not confined to any make or makes of records.

Granted that The Brunswick plays all these records as well as the instruments for which they were originally intended, the only logical choice today is—The Brunswick.

And to prove that this is the case, we only ask you to visit any Brunswick dealer and make the comparative tone test yourself.

The smoothness and distinctness of Brunswick tones will be a revelation to you. You will note the absence of disagreeable surface noises, and a greater fullness and steadiness of tone, improvements due to the exclusive Brunswick Method of Reproduction.

Hear The Brunswick before you decide on your phonograph. Also hear Brunswick Records, which can be played on any instrument using steel or fibre needles.

A Noteworthy Offering of Women's Winter Coats at $89.50

Regular $110.00 Coats

THESE Coats were advantageously purchased and are far above the ordinary Coats at this price—from every standpoint.

They offer three different beautiful materials for your selection—orlanda, lustroia and ondulette.

Distinctive fashioning in various wrappy models—large fur collars—silk lining of fine quality throughout, and splendid workmanship are other features that mark them as exceptionally desirable.

Brown, Nankin blue, navy, taupe and black are the colors.

Coat Shop—Third Floor.

Smart New Fall Suits

at $59.75 and $89.75

MANY beautiful models are here for your inspection at these prices—the plain tailored and more elaborate embroidered and fur-trimmed Suits displaying individually distinctive expressions of favored late models.

All are perfectly tailored, attractively lined and warmly interlined.

A variety of the season's modish materials are used in their development. One also has choice of the different newest shades. Sizes are from 34 to 44.

AMERICANS IN PARIS HAVE ELECTION PARTY

Newspapers Issue Extra Editions, but Are Cautious in Statements of Harding Victory.

By the Associated Press.
PARIS, Nov. 3.—Members of the American colony in this city enjoyed an old-fashioned American election party, the first one ever held in Paris, last night. Several thousand, including Hugh C. Wallace, American Ambassador, and other embassy officials gathered at a theater, where election returns were flashed upon the screen by Paris editions of American newspapers. The bulletins were received at the theater from 20 to 30 minutes after the results had been compiled in New York City.

When dispatches telling of the sweeping victory by Senator Harding were received at about 4 o'clock this morning extra editions were issued by newspapers, but all were cautious in their statements relative to the election. Most journals simply said:

"Harding clearly leading." The conservatism of Paris newspapers was due to the sudden change on the occasion of the last election in the United States, when for several days it was conceded that Charles E. Hughes had won. Some journals reminded their readers that the woman vote might produce a similar result this time, and that Senator Harding's election, while apparent on the face of returns, could not be definitely assured.

The Americans blew horns and whistles, cheered and sang songs such as "There'll Be a Hot Time in the Old Town Tonight," all of which helped them to feel they were "back home."

The supporters of James M. Cox and Senator Harding seemed nearly equal in numbers early in the evening, but when it became apparent the latter was far in the lead there were enthusiastic cheers for the Senator.

American Soldiers Have an Election Party at Coblenz.

By the Associated Press.
COBLENZ, Nov. 3.—Probably the most enthusiastic election party held in Europe last night was at Coblenz, where 3000 officers and doughboys of the American Army of Occupation assembled in a theater. Returns were flashed on the screen a few minutes after they were received in Paris, and the soldiers seemed determined to have all the thrills experienced by the waiting returns in the United States. There was cheering and singing, blowing of horns and whistles. There was not a dull moment up until the early hours this morning.

When bulletins announcing that the election of Senator Harding had been conceded, the soldiers returned to their barracks.

Flier Killed in 200 Foot Fall.

By the Associated Press.
LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 3.—L. E. Tucker, commercial airplane pilot of Riverside, Cal., was killed yesterday when his airplane fell 200 feet. M. M. Langley, Los Angeles, a passenger, suffered a fractured skull.

EFFECT OF ELECTION ON U. S. OFFICES HERE

First Important Change to Be
That of Postmaster in September, 1921.

Although the Federal administration will change complexion in Washington next March as a result of the Republican victory at the polls yesterday, Democrats will remain in charge of the Government offices in St. Louis in all but one position until Aug. 1, 1921.

In one office, that of District Attorney, James E. Carroll, the incumbent, will hold over under the Republican administration almost until the next national election. Carroll was appointed June 16, last, to a four-year term.

The first officeholder to leave the service will be Assistant Treasurer Willard D. Vandiver, who will quit next July 1, if not before through the provisions of the act of Congress abolishing subtreasuries.

Postmaster Selph will be the next to leave the Government employ, through expiration of his commission. His term will end Sept. 15, 1921.

The commissions of Collector of Internal Revenue George H. Moore and Collector of Customs Fountain Rodwell expire Aug. 1, 1922, and that of Marshal John E. Lynch Feb. 10, 1923.

Of the minor jobholders, many of those holding positions and identified with the Democratic political organizations of the city and State are civil service employees and can only be removed for cause. There are about 300 such employees in the various branches of the internal revenue service. A majority of them are men specially trained for the duties in the income tax service.

"PUDDEN"

Cheshire Cheese Tavern, where Dickens and Thackeray were familiar figures, was famous for its pudding.

Old William, the waiter, went his rounds among the immortals crying: "Any gentleman say pudden?"

Customs have changed since the days of Dickens and Thackeray; waiters no longer cry their wares.

But pudding remains as popular as ever—at least at CHILDS where it reaches perfection.

Rice, tapioca and cornstarch puddings—a trio of delectable desserts.

GRAND JURY TO RESUME ELECTION FRAUD INQUIRY

Judge Hartmann Says to Drop Investigation Now Would Make It Seem a Political Move.

Circuit Judge Hartmann, who, as was related in late editions of the Post-Dispatch, yesterday summoned the grand jury suddenly without the knowledge of the Circuit Attorney, said today that the jury will resume tomorrow its investigation into complaints of election frauds.

"For me to drop the inquiry, now that the Republican party seems to have won," said Judge Hartmann this morning, "would make the investigation seem only a political move. I have no intention of dropping it. Election crooks must be punished. The inquiry will be thorough, whether it hits Republicans or Democrats."

Hartmann is a Republican and Circuit Attorney McDaniel is a Democrat. The Judge explained that before summoning the grand jury, he and other Circuit Judges of the Criminal Division, attempted to reach McDaniel and his associates by telephone, but were unable to do so. Assistant Circuit Attorney Feehan said today that he had received as yet no information concerning the proposed resumption of the inquiry tomorrow. McDaniel was not at his office.

Only one witness was heard yesterday. Justice of the Peace Joseph L. Schuler, who had complained to Judge Hartmann that automobiles loaded with strangers were driving from one polling place to another and voting repeatedly in the Sixth Ward. City Jailor John McCully was summoned before the grand jury, but was excused on his assertion that he had only hearsay information of alleged frauds. No indictments were voted or bench warrants requested as a result of yesterday's session.

A long list of complaints concerning purported violations of the election laws was made to the police yesterday. Judge Hartmann declared that each and every one of these complaints would be the subject of grand jury investigation.

SHEPARD EVANS GETS DIVORCE

Attorney Alleged Wife Had Naggings Disposition.

Shepard R. Evans, an attorney, obtained a divorce today from Bessie Wolff Evans in Judge Hogan's court. They were married July 19, 1915, and separated Oct. 21 last. Before the separation they lived at Hotel Jefferson.

Mrs. Evans did not contest the suit. Evans testified that his wife had a nagging disposition and was not love him and advised him to get

Itching Blisters Over Baby's Head Cuticura Heals

"A breaking out began on the top of baby's head. It seemed to itch and then later it went into little blisters that spread all over his head and his hair came out. His scalp was red and sore and he irritated it by scratching. He was cross and fussy and the eruption caused his head to look badly for large scales had formed."

"His head had been sore for a month before I used Cuticura Soap and Ointment and I used one cake of Cuticura Soap and two boxes of Cuticura Ointment which healed him." (Signed) Mrs. M. H. Fish-lack, Kane, Illinois.

Cuticura Soap daily and Cuticura Ointment occasionally prevent pimples or other eruptions. They are a pleasure to use, as is also Cuticura Talcum for perfuming the skin.

Sample Book Free by Mail. Address: "Cuticura Lab-oratories, Dept. B, Malden 15, Mass." Hold every-where. Keep Dr. Ointment 50¢ and the Talcum 50¢.

Take an Internal Bath And Do Your Best Work This Winter

Soap and hot water cleanses and freshens the outside of the body. Partola—"The Doctor in Candy Form" cleanses and freshens the inside of the body. Few realize that it is just as important to cleanse the inside of the body as the outside.

The skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, but the bowel pores do. Partola—"The Doctor in Candy Form"—will cleanse your system thoroughly, regulate the bowels and disinfect the intestinal tract, helping to relieve constipation and indigestion, purifying the blood and restoring vitality. Partola Peppermint Candies are delicious to taste, mild in their action and absolutely harmless. Every druggist has Partola in 30c boxes—double size 50c.

IRISH CHIEF SECRETARY APOLOGIZES IN PARLIAMENT

Had Been Challenged to Fight When He Called Lord Bentinck a Coward.

LONDON, Nov. 3.—A challenge to fight was flung at Irish Chief Secretary Greenwood in the House of Commons Monday night by Lord Henry Bentinck, over the case of Mrs. John Annan Bryce, sister-in-law of Lord Bryce, who was arrested at Holyhead Saturday while on her way to speak in Wales on the Irish situation, and sent back to Dublin. Some of the Liberals and Bentinck, who is a Conservative, had tried to start a discussion in the House over the arbitrary and illegal employment of Irish Coercion Act methods against an English woman in England. The Government, knowing that there were not enough Liberals and Labor members present for a quorum, kept their own men out of the chamber, so that the point of "no quorum" could be raised and debate prevented. "You should face the music and not run away," Bentinck called across the floor to Greenwood, as he was leaving the House, to which Greenwood retorted that Bentinck was a "coward." Bentinck followed Greenwood to the bar of the House, where, clutching him by the shoulder, he said: "You called me a coward, and you must either fight or apologize for my part, I am ready to fight you now."

"Haden't we better settle this on friendly terms?" Greenwood replied. "both of us withdrawing what we said? I am willing to begin by withdrawing what I said to you."

McGraw Cord Tires

8000-Mile Guarantee

In a Special Selling Thursday

at 50% Discount
From the List Price

As most Tires are sold at a discount from the list price, we believe the prices quoted in this sale offer values that every autoist will recognize as being of an exceptional character.

All are brand new, first quality Cord Tires, guaranteed by the maker, The McGraw Tire & Rubber Co., for 8000 miles. McGraw Cord Tires are as good as the best tires made, and the full 8000-mile guarantee makes this the best of all tire values. The sale prices are as follows:

1500 Inner Tubes

at Exceptional Savings

INCLUDED are "United States" tubes, known as "factory seconds" but are fresh stock, sold in their original boxes. They are called "seconds" because of slight surface blemishes or minor imperfections, which in no way impair the mileage service. Every tube is guaranteed to hold air when purchased and should render as good service as first quality tubes. Also some "firsts" in this sale, but carry no guarantee, as we bought them with this understanding.

ADVERTISEMENTS

LONG ROWS OF JOLLY-LOOKING MEN AND WOMEN WAITED IN LINE TO VOTE.

It was an interesting sight to visit the various polling places yesterday and to see the great number of women casting their first votes.

The Prufrock-Litton Furniture Company, at Fourth and St. Charles, had their usual rush, in spite of it being election day.

This was due to the fact that they are offering $100 rebate on a limited number of Dining Room, Bedroom and Living Room suites of furniture.

Solemn high mass in memory of Lord Mayor MacSwiney of Cork will be sung at the Catholic church of the Immaculate Conception, Lafayette avenue and Longfellow boulevard, at 7:30 a. m. tomorrow.

A notice of the mass published today speaks of MacSwiney as "martyred in the sacred cause of freedom." It was added, "We invite all Irish sympathizers."

Richard Washburn Child Expected to Be Harding's Secretary at Washington

MARION, O., Nov. 3.—(By the Post-Dispatch.)
No word of Cabinet suggestions is obtainable here, but out of the residence comes one gleam of light. Richard Washburn Child, lawyer and litterateur, is expected to be secretary to the President. There has, however, been no formal announcement of this.
Child is 39 years old, of Harvard, 1903, A. B. and LL. D.
He was a correspondent in Europe, serving with the Russian army. With our advent into the war, he became assistant to Frank A. Vandenberg in the War Savings Department. Last year he became editor of Collier's Weekly.
He is practicing law in New York City, is author of several books and is a contributor of fiction to the periodicals.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MARION, O., Nov. 3.—Senator Harding last night issued the following statement:

"Assuming that the early return is wholly dependable, I do not hesitate to say that I am pleased, of course, I am happy to utter my sincere. But I am not exultant.
It is not a personal victory. It is a renewed expression of confident Americanism and a national call to the Republican party.

"It is all so serious, the obligations are so solemn, that, instead of exulting, I am more given to prayer to God to make me capable of playing my part, and that all these calls to responsibility may meet the aspirations and expectations of America and the world.

"I am sure the people who have voted the Republican ticket will understand my feeling that I should make no unstudied statement of political aims at this time, beyond the expression made throughout the campaign."

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
MARION, O., Nov. 3.—Senator and Mrs. Harding will recuperate from the exertions and anxieties of the campaign in Texas. They will be the guests of Frank Edgar Sco-ber, an Ohioan resident in Texas for 22 years. He has been a bosom friend of Senator Harding since the latter was in the Ohio State Senate, and Lieutenant-Governor of the State when Scober was clerk of the Senate.

The Hardings will go to Point Isabelle, near Brownsville, which is within eight miles from the Mexican border and almost at the spot where the United States ended on the south and Mexico began. There is fishing, golf and duck hunting at Point Isabelle, besides excellent bathing facilities. The Hardings will live in a simple seaside cottage. It is far from the maddening throng and they and their host expect that Point Isabelle will afford the maximum of rest.

To Visit Panama Canal.
Senator Harding plans to visit the Panama Canal while in Texas and an excursion in to Mexico is not beyond the realm of possibilities. The plans contemplate a stay of two weeks at Point Isabelle when the party will return either to New Orleans or Galveston whence they will go by steamship to the Panama Canal. The return voyage probably will be by steamer to New York. The President-elect promises to leave there on the 15th of December, which gives a period for vacation. After making that speech, Senator Harding plans to return to Marion and remain there until he is called on for the inauguration.

If, as seems to be probable at this time, Harry Davis is elected Governor of Ohio, Harding will resign from the Senate as soon as Davis takes over the office and Davis will thereupon appoint Frank B. Willis, the Senator-elect, to fill the vacancy.
If, on the other hand, Davis is defeeted, Harding will remain a Senator until March 4. Otherwise he would have a Democratic successor begins in December. In the latter case Harding will remain within call for any possible emergency where the Republicans' present meager majority would be imperiled.

Will Depart Saturday

A few far ends of the campaign remain to be cleared away from his desk first, however, and he will devote the next two or three days to rounding out his affairs here. He probably will leave Saturday morning, not to return again until about mid-December.

One of his tasks today was to read and acknowledge hundreds of telegrams of congratulations that had been pouring in since the balloting began yesterday. During the night, as the proportions of the landslide to him became apparent, the Marion telephone offices were flooded beyond capacity, and today the influx of messages of greeting and good wishes continued to come in proportions that outdid the liveliest days of the campaign.

The Senator was not at his office until late in the forenoon, however, having been kept awake until long after midnight by his exultant fellow townsmen, who chose his lawn as the forum for a succession of celebrations over the honor that had come to Marion and to their neighbors.

Serenaded by Neighbors

Their neighbors brought along every variety of noise-making device, and both Mr. and Mrs. Harding responded to every serenade by coming out and shaking hands all around.

Satisfied of his own sweeping victory, the new President-elect carefully watched the congressional returns today to determine how great would be the party strength in Senate and House. Throughout his campaign he has declared he did not want the presidency unless there were to be a Republican Congress to insure teamwork in the Federal Government, and he expressed gratitude today at the assurance that the voters had responded to his appeal.

MEXICO CITY GETS RETURNS

By the Associated Press.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 3.—More interest was created in the Mexican capital by the American elections than by the elections held in Mexico last September, when Gen. Alvaro Obregon was chosen President.
There was a reception at the American Club and all the foreign clubs held open house.
For the first time in the city's history, the newspapers employed open-air screens to flash the progress of the balloting. Streets adjacent to the screens were blocked with spectators despite the threatening weather.

Former Senator Burton in House

By the Associated Press.
COLUMBUS, Nov. 3.—Former Senator Theodore Burton has been elected to the House from the Twenty-second Ohio (Cleveland) district, according to returns tabulated tonight.

FARMER-LABOR TICKET IS SECOND IN BELLEVILLE

New Party May Have Elected Its Candidate for Legisla- ture—Leads in 12 of 17 Precincts.

A series of remarkable results was recorded yesterday in the election in St. Clair County.
In the first place, East St. Louis, which four years ago gave Wilson a plurality of 2999, yesterday gave Harding a plurality of 443 over Cox.
It was the second time that city had ever gone for a Republican presidential candidate, the other occasion being when Roosevelt beat Parker in 1904.

Another startling result was that the Farmer-Labor ticket, on the face of incomplete returns, appeared to have run second in Belleville, the Democratic ticket being third. With 12 out of 17 precincts in Belleville reported, the lead of the Farmer-Laborites over the Democrats was steadily growing, and it appeared possible that the Farmer-Laborites had elected Christopher, one of their candidates for the Legislature.

While their showing in the county districts was less impressive, returns received at noon today from nine precincts outside of East St.
Louis and Belleville gave color to their claims that they have enlisted a considerable following among the farmers. The total vote for President, in the precincts was: Harding 1053, Cox 725, Christensen 331.

Schaumleffl Runs Behind

With returns complete from East St. Louis, and partial returns from elsewhere in the county, it appeared that the entire Republican county ticket, with the possible exception of State's Attorney Schaumleffl, had been elected. Schaumleffl, on whom a determined fight had been made because of his record in law enforcement, ran 1551 votes behind Harding in East St. Louis, and was facing defeat unless he received heavy plu-ralities in the country districts.

Returns from St. Clair, Madison and Monroe counties assured the re-election of Congressman William

Rodenberg over McCasland, his Democratic opponent, and made it appear possible, though not likely, that Cornelius Hayes, the Farmer-
Labor candidate, would run second.
On the other hand, the Democratic candidates for the Levee Board, against whom a campaign similar to that against Schaumleffl was waged, ran well, and it appeared that at least three, and perhaps all five, had been elected.

The showing of the Farmer-Labor ticket in East St. Louis was disappointing to the leaders of that party, although Hayes polled more than a third as many votes as McCasland, the Democratic candidate for Congress. They had hoped to carry the city.

In East St. Louis the vote for President was: Harding, 8935; Cox, 5482; Christensen, 1056. In Belleville, the vote in 14 out of 17 of the precincts was: Harding, 3250; Christensen, 1948; Cox, 1619.

The vote for State's Attorney in East St. Louis was: Schaumleffl, 1244; Cook, Democrat, 823; Osterhaus, Farmer-Laborite, 1273; a plurality for Cook over Schaumleffl of 2699.

Returns on Levee Board.
Complete returns in East St. Louis for members of the Levee Board were as follows: Republicans—
Roth, 8158; Meints, 8093; Baker, 8092; Schmidt, 7575; Ludwig, 7737;
Democratic—Kramer, 8395;
Knowles, 8226; Flynn, 8152; Gaylord, 7891; Sunderland, 7718; Farmer-Labor—Curtis, 1687; Horn, 2058; Hammond, 1707; Simmons, 1635; Bennett, 1613.

Returns from 34 of the 58 precincts in East St. Louis gave the following vote for candidates for the Board of Review: Republicans—Campbell, 5242; Hamill, 4907; Martin, 5111; Democratic—Bowler, 3825;
Davenport, 4152; Rickard, 3967; Farmer-Labor—Mitchell, 805; Holliday, 778; Walters, 784.

For County Auditor, the vote in 34 precincts was: Eckert, Republican, 5326; Klein, Democrat, 3821; Gamlin, Farmer-Laborite, 799.

REPUBLICANS WIN IN MADISON COUNTY BY 3400 TO 8000

The entire Republican national,
State and county tickets carried Madison County, Ill., yesterday, by plu-ralities ranging from 3400 to 8000, in a total vote of about 60,000. With returns far from complete today, officials estimated that Harding's plurality over Cox would reach 7500.

The showing made by the Farmer-Laborites was still in doubt, as returns from the coal mine districts, where that ticket was expected to

Brooklyn, Ill., Normal Again; Cast Vote of 642 for Harding, 1 for Cox

BROOKLYN, Ill., returned to normalcy yesterday, by giving Harding a vote of 642 to 1 for Cox.
Brooklyn is a negro village just north of East St. Louis, and in former times 600 to 1 was about the normal percentage in favor of the Republicans. In the last two elections, however, President Wilson had received almost a dozen votes.

The return to normalcy was marred, in the opinion of the majority, by the fact that Christensen got three votes, and Debs
2. This is the only place yet reported where the Farmer-Labor ticket received three times, and the Socialist twice as many votes as the Democratic.

receive its heaviest vote, were still out. It was not expected that this would affect the general result, but it was believed that the Farmer-Laborites would run ahead of the Democrats in several precincts.

State's Attorney Joseph P. Streuber, who was a Republican candidate for re-election on his anti-gambling record, won from James Bandy, Democrat, by more than 6000. Bandy formerly was State's Attorney, and it was under him that gambling flourished in Venice and Madison. Streuber beat him four years ago on a "reform" platform.

County Auditor Frank Trocickler, the only Democratic officeholder in the county, was defeated for re-election by Louis Bright by about 4000 votes.

Rehmeier and Flagg, Republican candidates for the Legislature, were elected, and it was still doubtful this morning which of the Democratic candidates, Garesche or Dickmann, would be the third legislator. Both parties followed their usual custom of nominating only two candidates for the three seats, in order to cast one and one-half votes for each of them.

Today's returns showed if the Republicans had nominated a full slate of three candidates, all would have been carried in by the Republican landslide.

Because of the delay in getting returns from the more remote districts, it was not expected that the complete figures for the county would be available before tomorrow night.

Monroe County, Ill., for Harding by 2 to 1.

Harding carried Monroe County, Ill., of which Waterloo is the county seat, by a ratio of more than two to one, and every Republican on the county ticket was elected. The county also gave Congressman William Rodenberg a top-heavy majority, Rodenberg running ahead of Harding there.

The complete vote for the county was: Harding, 2403; Cox, 1400; Christensen, 165; Debs, 15. For Governor—Small, 2400; Lewis, 1421;
Walker (F.-L.), 172. For Senator—McKinley, 2400; Waller, 1401; Fitzpatrick (F.-L.), 165. Congressman—Rodenberg, 3425; McCasland, 1005.

Monroe County usually has a large Republican majority, but never before had it been so large as in this election.

MICHIGAN 2 TO 1 AGAINST ABOLISHING PAROCHIAL SCHOOLS

By the Associated Press.
DETROIT, Nov. 3.—A vote of 2 to 1 had been recorded this morning against a proposed constitutional amendment which would, in effect, abolish parochial schools in the State.

GOV. COX IN DEFEAT KEEPS USUAL SMILE

Demonstrates His Ability to "Take a Licking"—Many Commend His Fight.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
DAYTON, O., Nov. 3.—"I will make no statement tonight," said Gov. Cox upon leaving the offices of his newspaper here last night, after he had read sufficient election returns to indicate his defeat. "The Governor kept his usual smile."
Numerous friends, with rather glum faces, came to pay their respects to the Governor and he generally had a remark which was calculated to lift their gloom.
The Dayton News, which is owned by Gov. Cox, issued an extra at 10 o'clock, conceding the election of Senator Harding. The extra was issued on the Governor's authorization.

Many Messages Received

During the evening Cox was joined by his young son, Jimmie, thus making the Cox family circle complete.
Numerous messages were received from the Democratic headquarters in New York City and from various admirers.

There were also suggestions in telegrams, that even though he had been defeated this year he was still a likely presidential candidate for 1924. Henry M. Pindell wired as follows:

"Whatever verdict may come out of today's election there is no doubt of the immeasurable high place you have reached in the conscious and righteous judgment of the American people. If you fall today you will be unanimously called four years hence to lead your party in a triumphant contest."

A Mitchell Palmer wired: "You have made a wonderful fight and deserve to win."

Joseph Daniels sent a message, saying: "Your magnificent campaign has gladdened all your friends; you have deserved to win."
Ambassador John W. Davis sent this message: "Whatever the result, you have made a great fight and success will be deserved."

Dodges Movie Cameras

Moving picture men were waiting in the room outside the office, hoping to make some photographs of him receiving the returns. But the Governor, contrary to his usual custom, when such requests are made, declined to be photographed. This can be taken as an indication that Cox, when it is fully assured that he has been defeated, will step out of the limelight gracefully.

Mrs. Cox was just as cheerful as her husband. After spending some time in the private office, she walked into the corridor of the News Building and greeted her friends smiling-ly and cordially, showing no sign of disappointment. While Cox was receiving the returns a great crowd gathered outside the building watching the bulletins which his newspaper was flashing. There were cheers at the first Harding reports, but not so loud as these which greeted the announcement that the Ohio Governor had carried the State of Oklahoma.

GROVER C. BERGDOLL, ESCAPED DRAFT EVADER, IN GERMANY

By the Associated Press.
BERLIN, Nov. 3.—The American mission here has no information on the reported arrest of Grover C.
Bergdoll, the Philadelphia draft dodger, but knows that he has been seen in Karlsruhe and other sections of Baden up to four days ago.
American military authorities at Coblentz are said to have attempted to cause his arrest through the German authorities.

Wilson's District for Harding

By the Associated Press.
PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 3.—
President Wilson's home district here—the Seventh Election District —was carried by Senator Harding by more than two to one. Gov. Cox had 145 votes, while Harding had 218. This district is a strong Democratic district, and was carried by Wilson four years ago. Mayor Charles Brown, Democratic candidate for Congress, carried the district by two votes.

WOMEN PLEASED OVER DEFEAT OF KIMMEL, KRUEGER

Latter Admits Being Beaten —Judge Kimmel's Secretary Makes Reference to
"Unfair Fight."

WOMEN POINT TO SHOW OF STRENGTH

They Say Higher Type of Candidates for Office Will Result From Their Campaign.

Members of the St. Louis League of Women Voters, which, in this election, entered a career in nonpartisan politics with a campaign under the slogan to "clean the courts by killing the K's" today expressed their great gratification that two of the "K's"—Judge Krueger for Judge in the Court of Criminal Correction and Judge Kimmel in the Circuit Court—had been beaten, and that the third—Kilborn for Circuit Judge—had run far behind his ticket, and had escaped defeat by a small margin.

Judge Krueger admitted his defeat early in the day. Judge Kimmel's secretary, in the absence of the Judge from his chambers, said this afternoon that "it looks like Judge Kimmel is beaten."
There was an evident and increasing elation at the women's headquarters in the Century Building as the returns rolled in. Mrs. E. T.
Senseneby, president of the league,
said that the women felt released for their initial effort. "We consider it inspiring and significant for the future that the women have stood together for a clearly defined principle," she said. "They have shown their strength and have established themselves as a power that will demand higher standards of citizenship. The clamor for higher types of candidates is very audible,
I think."

Krueger Admits Defeat

At 10:10 o'clock this morning, 10 minutes after court should have convened, Judge Krueger of Division No.
2, Court of Criminal Correction, sat in his chambers awaiting returns.
With only a few precincts missing,
he gave up the fight and said to a Post-Dispatch reporter:

"I am beaten; that's all I have to say."

Anthony Schuler, who was defended at the primary for Republican nomination for City Treasurer, stood at Krueger's side.

"Cheer up, Judge," said Schuler.
"Always look for the worst, and you won't be disappointed. That's what I did."

Judge Kimmel left his chambers before noon and it was said by his secretary, A. C. Butler, who also acted as one of his campaign managers, that he would not return during the day.

"Unfair Fight"

Brett said "it looks like Judge Kimmel is beaten." He said that the Judge had a complaint against the "unfair fight" waged against him by the League of Women Voters and the newspapers.

The league carried its campaign through to the closing of the polls last evening with a large organization of young women who volunteered for service at the voting places. There were many instances yesterday where men and women offered their women office employees for the afternoon and sent them to the league headquarters for service. One man in the Arcade Building sent three stenographers and his bookkeeper.

Women Work at Polls

The precinct workers carried banners and placards reminding the women to remember the numbers placed on their ballots and making contributions to the Anna Howard Shaw Memorial fund. They were treated courteously by policemen and men ward workers everywhere, according to reports which were received hourly at league headquarters.

Late in the afternoon Mrs. Sen-seneby, accompanied by Mrs. Grace Gellhorn, president of the State League of Women Voters, and others made a round of some of the downtown precincts and found the situation among the women quite satisfactory. In places on Biddle and Carr streets many women of foreign birth who were found at the voting places had heard of the fight to "kill the K's" and said they had acted in behalf of better courts.

PRICES DECLINE IN LOCAL GRAIN MARKET

Wheat closed substantially lower at the Merchants' Exchange today.
Corn also was sharply off. Cash wheat led the other grains. Cash wheat rised higher.
There was an increase in the visible supply of wheat of 50,000 bushels.
Corn visible decreased 192,000 bushels and oats increased 754,000 bushels.
A Chicago house statistician estimated the corn crop at 2,267,000 bushels, a 1.5 bushels per acre yield.
Broomhall cable that the indicated Australian surplus would be 80,000,000 to 120,000,000 bushels. Chicago stocks of wheat last week increased 54,000 bushels, and corn increased 102,000.
Germany was said to have taken 250,000 bushels of wheat.
Prices of all grains moved within comparatively narrow limits during the forepart of the session. Following recessions from Monday's close values moved back to near previous basis.
The early market was small and quite or less of a waiting affair while traders discussed the election results. There was, too, a desire to see the effect of two days' receipts of grain on the market.
Private crop reports will be issued during the week and there was expectant desire to await these viewpoints on crop conditions.

ELECTION JUDGE SAID TO HAVE STABBED NEGRO

Democratic Official at Polling Place Arrested After Dispute With Voter.

David Schwartz of 814A High street, a Democratic judge of election in the Sixth Precinct of the Fifth Ward, 996 North Thirteenth street, was arrested at 5 p. m. yesterday, after he had been accused of stabbing Joseph Geiger, 37 years old, of 913 North Twelfth street, a negro.

Geiger was taken to City Hospital No. 2 for treatment for two wounds in the lower back. He said he was stabbed when he insisted on voting after Schwartz had refused to allow him to cast a ballot.

Police reported that after Geiger had been refused the first time he went to the Election Commissioners, and Commissioners Ruder and Lammert returned to the polling place with him and straightened out matters. Later, Geiger said, he was again refused permission to vote, and was ejected from the polling place and followed from the place by Schwartz, who stabbed him in a fight on the sidewalk.

Schwartz denied stabbing the negro. He admitted refusing his permission to vote, saying Geiger's name had been voted earlier in the day by a man who claimed to be Geiger.

Schwartz's place as a judge was taken by Edward Portney of 924 North Thirteenth street. Schwartz gave bond later.

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN

Central Presbyterian Seeks 150 Additions by Next Spring.

Every seven members of the Central Presbyterian Church, Belmont and Clara avenues, have been asked to obtain one new member before next spring, making the total quota of new members for this church this season 150. This is the estimate, in the present evangelistic meetings at the church, of the congregation's duty in the general aim of the Presbyterian Church (U. S.) to win 50,000 new members this year.

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Bell, moderator of the synod of Kentucky, is preaching sermons on "Salvation" every night this week at Central Church, and will also be there for the Sunday services. At 3:30 o'clock each afternoon he conducts a Bible study conference on "The Return of Our Lord to This Earth."

DOCTORS USE CALOTABS FOR COLDS AND FLU

Influenza and Grippe, Like Ordinary Colds, Require Calotabs, the Purified and Refined Calomel Tablets That Are Harmless, Safe and Sure.

Doctors are warning the public that simple colds and mild cases of influenza often lead to pneumonia and other serious complications. They say that every cold should receive immediate attention and that the first step in the treatment is to make sure that the liver is active. For this purpose, Calotabs, the purified, harmless calomel tablets are the surest, best and most agreeable laxative.

One Calotab at bed time with a swallow of water—that's all, no salts, no nausea, and no upsetting of the digestion and appetite. Next morning your child has vanished, your liver is active, your system is purified and refreshed and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

For your protection, Calotabs are sold only in original sealed packages, price thirty-five cents. All druggists recommended and guarantee Calotabs and are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with them.

BURGARS BUSY WHILE DUTIES AT POLLS ENGAGE POLICE

Drug Store, Paper Company and Four Homes Are Robbed During Night.

While all available policemen were busy at the polls and with other duties incident to the election, burglars worked in several parts of the city.

At the drug store of Charles E.
Rohlfing, 1827 Cass avenue, last night, thieves broke a 755 plate-glass window, crawled inside and helped themselves to a case of whisky, five gallons of alcohol, 125 worth of cigars, a pistol and some narcotics.

At the Western Paper Stock Co., 1144 O'Fallon street, burglars broke into a stock room and stole bottled cloth valued at $300.

The flats of W. T. Knight and C.
P. McFadden, 4038 and 4038A Botanical avenue, were ransacked and the families said they would have to take an inventory before they knew what was stolen.

Other burglaries were in the homes of William Klauber, 2727 South King's highway, jewelry and clothing valued at $400 taken, and Mrs. Frances Oberbeck, 4143 Maryland avenue, $200 in jewelry and clothing.

SOME PEANUTS TO BE ROLLED AS A RESULT OF THE ELECTION

Provisional Judge Wins a Ride of Nine Blocks in a Wheel-barrow.

It appears upon the face of election returns that on Nov. 8, at 3:30 p. m., Spiro Martin, a restaurant owner at 2011 East Grand avenue, may be observed rolling a peanut with a lead pencil about the water tower at Twentieth street and East Grand avenue. By the terms of his bet on Cox with Harry Tabler, president of the North End Dyeing and Cleaning Co. of 2010 East Grand avenue, he must roll the peanut around the tower five times. His alternative is payment of $50.

Likewise Frank Harris of Meyer-Bros. Drug Co. must roll a peanut with a toothpick from Fourth street and Clark avenue to Fourth and Market streets, he having lost his bet on Cox with Edwin J. Bell, owner of Meyer Bros.

Provisional Judge Frank B. Grodski of 1617 Union boulevard won a ride in a wheelbarrow from his office at 1912 Cass avenue to the Police hall at 1949 Cass with a bet on Harding against Barney Kucma's on Cox. The date for payment is not yet set.

"Gets-It" for Hard or Soft Corns

Satisfaction Guaranteed With This Corn Remover.

Common sense tells anybody that the way to cure a corn is to remove it, and this corn remover does it.

Don't Doctor Your Corns. Let "Gets-It" Remove Them—Painlessly! Quickly!

Not only hard corns, but not only soft corns, but every kind of corn, whether it is a corn on the foot or a corn on the hand, it takes weeks or months to grow a corn. It takes just a few seconds to stop its pain with two or three drops of "Gets-It". Quickly it loosens so you can peel it right off without the least twinge of pain, and it is gone.

"Gets-It" is the never-failing, guaranteed, money-back corn remover, costs but a trifle at any drug store. Mfg. by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago.

A STUBBORN COUGH LOOSENS RIGHT UP

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than was ever sold by ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

MILK DEALER FINED

$50 IN FEDERAL COURT

Mulberry Grove (Ill.) Man Pleads Nolo Contendere as Several Others Had Done.

Charles C. Taylor of Mulberry Grove, Ill., was fined $25 by Judge Paris in Federal court today on each of two counts charging shipment of watered and filthy milk to the Blanton Manufacturing Co., makers of oleomargarine, in St. Louis in September, 1917.

Taylor made a plea of nolo contendere (no contest) as have 19 other Southern Illinois producers and St. Louis distributors when called upon to answer similar indictments within the last year. He declared that he was not a producer of milk, but merely bought it from farmers and reshipped it.

"You at no time have been a producer," Judge Paris declared.

Taylor said that he had not.

"I was by the public press," Judge Paris said, "that this milk situation hasn't grown any better. The matter is not only disgraceful, it is dangerous. I should like to punish someone severely, but I am at a loss to find the people actually guilty."

"That's right, Judge," Taylor interpolated, "that's a fact, somebody ought to be punished."

Judge Paris repeated that the question of good milk for the city was a serious one and imposed the fine.

In referring to statements in the public press that the situation has not improved, he was referring to accounts recently of a movement started by the Council of Jewish Women and the League of Women Voters to organize a vigilance committee to protect the milk supply, after physicians had declared that milk to be so high in bacteria as not to be fit for infants.

Mrs. M. G. Seelig has called a meeting for the organization of a Citizens' Milk Committee for Nov. 16.

CORONER'S JURY HOLDS DRIVER OF AUTO IN DEATH OF WOMAN

Verdict of Criminal Carelessness Returned Against Ferguson Youth After Accident Sunday.

A Coroner's verdict of criminal carelessness, holding Francis Niehaus, 19 years old, of Ferguson, St. Louis County, was returned today at an inquest into the death of Mrs. Ruth Gillespie, 57 years old, of 3631 Cass avenue, who died at 8:15 p. m. Sunday of injuries suffered at 5 a. m. that day, when she was struck by an automobile driven by Niehaus. The Coroner ordered Niehaus held for the grand jury under $1000 bond.

Testimony was that Mrs. Gillespie, a widow, was on her way to mass at St. Alphonsus' Church, Grand and Finney avenues, and was crossing Grand avenue at Cass avenue when the automobile came north on Grand. Mrs. Gillespie became confused, witnesses said, and stepped into the path of the automobile. She was knocked down and suffered a fractured skull.

HEAVY VOTE BY WOMEN IN CHICAGO FOR HARDING

91,191 Women and 155,603 Men in Half of Districts—Two Men for Cox to One Woman.

By the Associated Press. CHICAGO, Nov. 3.—Women in Chicago cast a heavy vote in the election of Senator Harding and Gov. Coolidge. With approximately half of the returns in Chicago complete, the vote shows that 91,191 women voted for the Republican presidential ticket as compared with 155,603 male voters.

In the Democratic race, however, the men outvoted the women two to one. The women's vote for Cox for President was 32,466, and the men cast 60,347.

The same proportion prevailed in the balloting for Governor and Senator.

TEXAN KILLED IN QUARREL OVER SERVICE AS JUDGE AT ELECTION

Shot Through Heart When He Attempts to Get Possession of Ballot Box.

By the Associated Press. SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Nov. 3.—Louis S. Campbell is dead and A. J. Saunders is under bond on a charge of murder as the result of a quarrel as to who should serve as presiding judge of an election precinct in the southern part of Bexar County Tuesday. Both are well-known Texans and pioneer settlers.

Campbell was shot through the heart when he is said to have sought to gain possession of the ballot box. Both claimed to have been appointed election judge of the precinct.

MAN, WHO CAST DECIDING VOTE FOR SUFFRAGE, DEFEATED

McMinn County (Tenn.), Casts Heavy Vote Against Representative Harry T. Burns.

Special to the Post-Dispatch. KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 3.—Harry T. Burns, hero of suffragists over the nation because of his deciding vote on the ratification resolution, in the Tennessee Legislature, has been defeated by an overwhelming majority for re-election as indicated by reports received from McMinn County, where he resides.

Burns had intended to vote against suffrage, but when he received a letter from his mother urging him to cast the deciding vote giving women the ballot he did so.

BURGLAR ALARM BRINGS POLICE

Gong at Trust Company Accidently Sounded.

The accidental sounding of a burglar alarm at the St. Louis Union Trust Co., Fourth and Locust streets, at 10 a. m. today caused operations of a burglary protective agency and wagonload of policemen and detectives to go there.

At the bank it was said the alarm was sounded by a crossed wire or by someone accidentally touching a button. This was the second time in two months that this alarm had been sounded falsely.

Immense Throngs in Twelfth Street and Auditoriums Get Post-Dispatch Election Bulletins

Upper photograph is flashlight showing just a section of the dense mass of people outside the Post-Dispatch Building watching returns as they were flashed on the screen and repeated by voice on the Magnavox, a sound amplifying device which made the speaker distinctly audible south of Olive street and north of Locust.

Below, on left, scene in Soldan High School Auditorium in which, as in five other high schools, the Armory, the Battery, Thrift Stamp Center and 14 grade schools, election figures were made public minute by minute to as many people as could be crowded into those gathering places. On right, flashlight photo showing Magnavox in operation in Armory of Battery A.

I know that my retirement will make no difference in its cardinal principles, that it will always fight for progress and reform, never tolerate injustice or corruption, always fight demagogues of all parties, never belong to any party, always oppose privileged classes and public plunderers, never lack sympathy with the poor, always remain devoted to the public welfare, never be satisfied with merely printing news, always be drastically independent, never be afraid to attack wrong, whether by predatory plutocracy or predatory poverty.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

Editors: Home-Buying Associations.
To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

From time to time I have read letters in your paper in regard to the so-called "rent hog," and as yet no effective means has been found to cope with the situation. Of course, all owners of rental property wish to get the highest price possible, and if we, "the renters," owned the property and were renting it, we no doubt would wish and charge the highest price possible for us to get. I also noticed your editorial a few days ago in regard to the Housing Association having on hand several houses which they had not yet disposed of, presumably on account of the renters who wish to buy this property not having in cash the 10 per cent, or $150, required as first payment, and necessary to get possession of the houses. There are hundreds of renters in St. Louis who would like to buy houses and pay for them at a rate per month that they could afford to pay but who have not the $150 to pay down as a cash payment, but could easily meet the monthly payments.

Are there not at least 500 or 1000 renters in St. Louis who could get together and form an association of their own, each member paying into the association $10 per month? That would be from $5000 to $10,000 per month paid in the future. All members could draw and the one or two members drawing the lucky number would have a privilege of going on the market and buying a lot to build or buying a house and lot, to be paid for out of the money in the treasury of the association, he to pay the following month an amount equal to the rent he is now paying, or an amount that he is able to pay, this amount to be paid each month, and credited as payment for his house. As the lucky numbers drawn out each month increase, the money paid into the association would increase, and as time passed each month, more and more members would draw the lucky number and have the privilege of using the money in the treasury to buy for their houses, and by so doing they would be paying rent money on their own home and at the same time be enjoying the privileges of ownership. There would, of course, be numbers of members who would pay $10 into the association each month, who would not get a house for several months, but at the same time the payments would be to their credit and, when they drew the lucky number, they would have the amount paid in, already paid on the house they are to get. All renters could afford to make a first payment of $10 per month, and when they get the house they can afford to pay the rent on their own house.

Let us get together and form this association and formulate plans and get busy and quit paying rent money, which is never recovered.

Carnegie on Wilson.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
The autobiography of Andrew Carnegie has just been published and it is reviewed in November, 1920, Atlantic Monthly Bookshelf. I am inclosing a clipping therefrom showing the knowledge of Mr. Carnegie, and with which his autobiography concludes. Following is the clipping:

As I read this today (1914) what a change! The world convulsed by war as never before! Men slaying each other like wild beasts! I dare not relinquish all hope. In recent days I see another ruler coming forward upon the world stage, who may prove himself the immortal one. The man who vindicated his country's honor in the Panama Canal dispute is now President. He has the indomitable will of genius, and true hope of which we are told.

Nothing is impossible to genius. Watch President Wilson! He has Scotch blood in his veins.
(Here the manuscript ends abruptly.)
I am thinking you might use it in answer to what is now being said of Mr. Wilson by such creatures as Lodge and his little 2x4 understudy, Spencer, and his like.
JOHN H. DRABELLE.

"They Shall Not Pass"

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.
From your Sunday edition of Aug. 8, 1920, I notice on page one, general news, an information regarding some war expressions by Marshal Foch and Marshal Pétain.

It is correct that the expression "They shall not pass" is not of Marshal Pétain. This expression was the war cry of the Italian soldiers, the Alpini or fighters of the Alps. The Italian words are Non si passano. ("They shall not pass.") Many editions of an illustrated postal card, printed at the beginning of the war between Austria and Italy, were showing one Alpini soldier over a summit of the Alps in the act of stopping the Austrian soldier at the war cry: Non si passano.

When the second corp of the Italian army went to Italy, France, to help the French fight the Germans, the French soldiers learned the Italian war cry and was translated in French: Non si passano.

So, for the truth, the expression "They shall not pass" originated by the Italian fighters of the Alps, the Alpini.

Yours very truly,
UGO DALPINI.

A REPUBLICAN LANDSLIDE.

An imperious demand for a political change is set forth in the election returns. How irresistible was the demand is shown by the most impressive totals in which the results of an election have ever been recorded.

As to the solemn referendum, it seems, as was predicted, to have been inconclusive or even lost sight of in the impetuous haste with which a change was decreed. One interpretation is to be expected from the Johnson-Borah wing of the victorious party and a diametrically opposite one from the Taft-Wickersham wing.

It is undeniable that a large number of the American people went to the polls with strong objections to certain features of the pending arrangement, but with an equally strong hope that out of the present confusion some effective reorganization will be devised for securing the peace of the world. The responsibility is with the men and with the party to whom the people have given their mandate with such a striking show of confidence. A day of reckoning for the manner in which they discharge their trust will come in 1924.

We have opposed Senator Harding most earnestly, but may assure him of support in all measures promising benefit to the country in the future. We shall await the development of his policies with interest, prepared to recognize anything of merit they may embody. Many difficult problems demand attention. The co-operation of all patriotic citizens is needed in solving them wisely and justly.

In the State, the party which, through either a part or all of the important offices, has exercised control since the Civil War, seems to have been swept from power in an expression whose significance in condemnation of past delinquencies cannot be questioned. If, along with acceptable candidates like Mr. Atkinson, the obstructors of progress, the machinists who have manipulated the Legislature to the detriment of the public interest, and the corruptionists have also gone down to defeat, the outcome will be most gratifying.

The people have attempted through long years and by the agency of one favored party to arrest Missouri's backwardness, and, having failed, have turned to the other party. A terrific rebuke has been administered to the peanut politician and to rhapsim.

The fate of the amendments, on which so many hopes have been built, is not now definitely known, but many signs indicate the approval of some. The execution of the new, revivifying policies on which the State will embark, in the event of the amendments' adoption, will be entrusted to a new, fresh personnel of public servants, unhampered at least by past traditions of Democratic sins of omission and commission. In the smash delivered at the Democratic State machine, which might have attempted to pervert those policies or to devote their possibilities to partisan advantage, those newly entrusted with power may find a wholesome lesson.

THE MILK STRIKE.

Their strike against the local distributors is said to have cost the milk producers of Illinois $1,000,000. It is understood the distributors have also lost money, but no estimate is given of their losses. And it is certain that the strike has been expensive for the people of St. Louis, who have had to pay a higher price for milk.

The experience again demonstrates the folly of the strike as a means for settling a difference. Besides the folly, there is the injustice done the people of St. Louis. The full force of this injustice may only be surmised. But everybody knows that milk at 17 cents a quart is a difficult problem with many families. It has meant most careful rationing in many instances, undernourishment in not a few.

It is inconceivable that the public will continue indefinitely to endure such imposition. Where clashing interests lack the capacity and sense of fairness voluntarily to adjust their differences rationally, the public must have the authority to compel such adjustment.

ABOLISH THE "RIBBON" BALLOTS.

The first impressions of the new women voters as to the mechanical processes by which the vox populi is registered will doubtless be interesting, perhaps valuable. That they may be able to suggest improvements in this man-made system of voting is by no means unlikely.

One opportunity for promoting convenience and saving time did not, of course, escape the attention of observant St. Louis women voters. When they entered the polling place, they were handed six party tickets, each printed on a long paper strip of exaggerated narrowness. The decided tendency of these several strips to escape from the hand to the floor or wriggle off the shelf in the booth was irritating.

After the woman voter had picked from the twisted, tangled bunch the ticket she desired to vote, she had then to prepare it by incorporating names from other tickets for whom she wished to be counted. If she were a Democratic voter, she perhaps felt that she ought to support the Republican opponents of Messrs. Sullivan and Middelkamp. If she were a Republican voter, she perhaps felt that she ought to oppose the three K's.

But to do either was quite a complicated little task. She had first to find the places on her own ticket where were printed the names of those she desired to oppose, and to cross such names out. Then from the tangle of her rejected tickets she had to dig out another ticket than her own to ascertain the correct spelling of the opposing nominees. Finally she was compelled laboriously to write in the names of the selected nominees.

Of course, all this took time when the allotment to each voter was only a few seconds more than a minute and unquestionably contributed to the lengthening line of waiting voters found nearly all day outside the polling places.

How much simpler and quicker the preparation would have been if all the tickets had been printed on one sheet. With such a blanket ballot, a check mark at the top would indicate the particular ticket voted and a check mark opposite names other than those on that ticket would indicate the precise manner in which the ticket was to be split.

The ribbon ballots are a survival of a very early period and were years ago rejected by almost all the states. Why are they still used in Missouri? Because the machine bosses fancy that they encourage straight voting. They do to some extent, but at a great cost in trouble and time.

Years of effort by the men for the adoption of the blanket, or Australian, ballot having been unsuccessful, the women may now take up the fight. To promote ease as well as independence in voting by banishing the archaic ribbon ballots may be assigned the women as their particular task in the early work of improving voting conditions and politics.

NEW YORK AND INTERNAL WATERWAYS

An international commission representing the American and Canadian Governments has heard evidence in a dozen or more cities on the feasibility and value of a deep-draught waterway in the St. Lawrence River from the sea to the lakes. A part of the plan is the amortization of costs by the development of the St. Lawrence's enormous water power.

It seems significant that the first serious objection to the project has been voiced before the commission in New York. It is urged there that the route to sea via the mouth of the St. Lawrence is perilous; that the waterway would be icebound for four or five months of the year, during which four or five months Canada now has to use New England ports; that though a great part of imports coming by present routes are destined for the West, only outgoing vessels using the new waterway would have cargoes and would be obliged to return in ballast.

But an objection compared with which all others seem negligible is the frankly confessed one that the new waterway would tend to decrease the trade and prestige of the port of New York City. And, though it may be exerted in secret or take camouflaged forms when visible, probably this is an opposition that must be reckoned with in all projects for the intensive development of other waterways that would open new routes to foreign trade. Admiral Benson, chairman of the Shipping Board, wrote that the plan for a St. Lawrence-Great Lakes route must be undertaken "if the development of the United States is to keep pace with and take care of the continually increasing prosperity in agriculture and manufacturing."

It is insufficiency and the perpetual congestion on the foreign routes via New York make it plain that his statement applies with equal truth to the Mississippi waterway.

NINTH POLICE MURDER.

The news that another policeman, George E. Geisler, had been murdered by men associated with the forces of the criminal underworld brought dismay to St. Louisans. This is the ninth member of the force to meet death in the discharge of duty in a year and eight months. It is gratifying that in this case those presumptively guilty of the crime were promptly placed under arrest and were indicted within 20 hours after the perpetration of the murder.

In the case of several of the list of nine who have so recently gone on the departmental roll of honor, the murderers are still uncaught. To run down those who lengthen the number of our police martyrs, to make the punishment swift and inescapable, to impress on even the most reckless and desperate that this is a crime to be avoided, is an obligation that should engage the best efforts of the comrades of these police heroes.

THE DESERTER.

"Don't quote me as voting the Democratic ticket," Mr. Bryan is reported to have said to newspaper men at Kansas City. The inference, of course, is that Mr. Bryan will vote another ticket, though he lacks the candor and moral courage to state what ticket he will support.

But it is hardly supposable that Mr. Bryan's desertion will be permanent. That is too much luck for the Democratic party to hope for. The man who led the Democratic party to three crushing defeats will be back again, seeking the honor a fourth time, and reading everybody out of the party who presumes to question the divine right of his leadership; not only reading them out of the party but branding them as heretics, traitors, renegades and the corrupt tools of Wall Street.

How successful Mr. Bryan may be in his future selfish, personal designs cannot be forecast. But many will remember his treachery to the party to which he owes his distinction and wealth, and his darker treachery to the noble cause that party has championed in the present campaign.

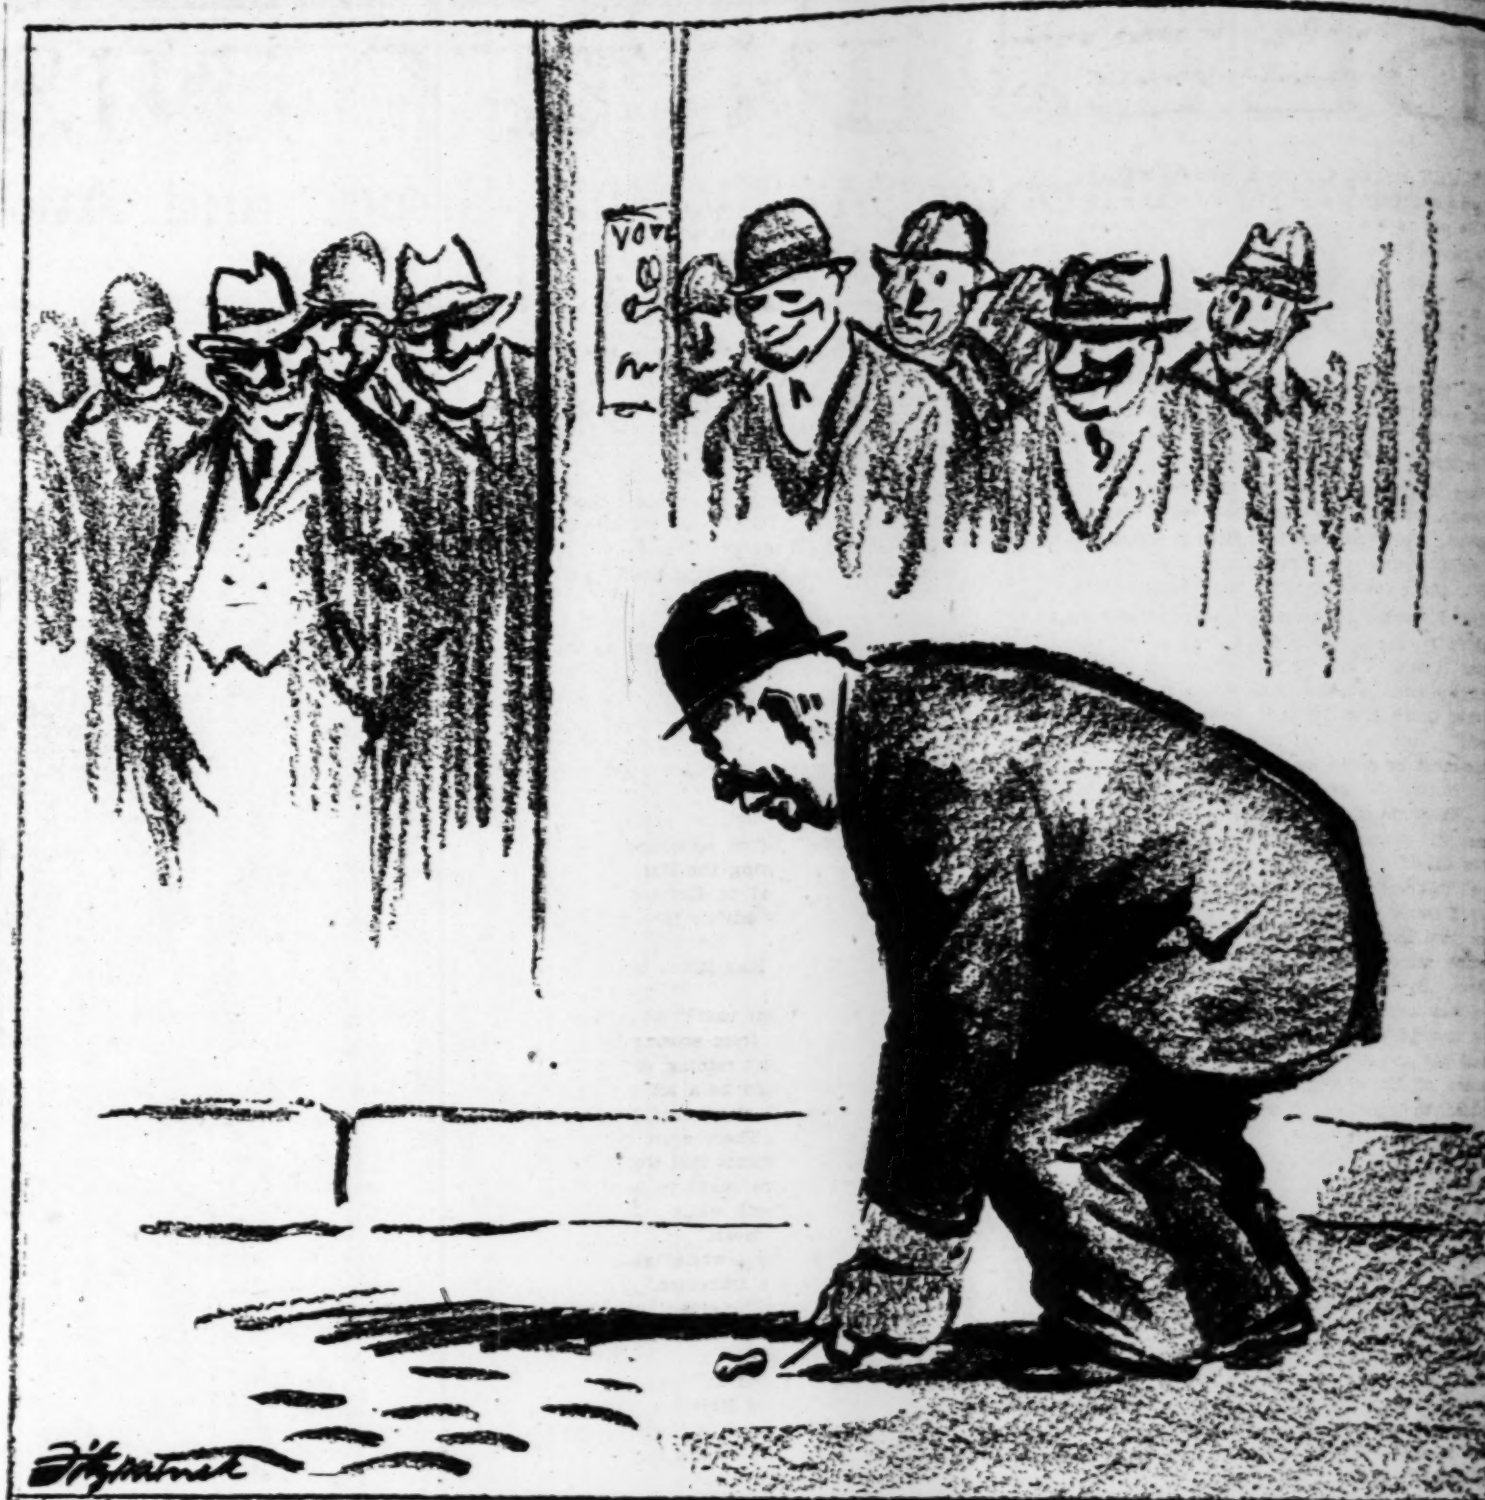

That cause has been world peace, the security of human happiness, the brotherhood of man translated into fact. To that cause Mr. Bryan has professionally been devoted. He has advocated it for years, on a strict guarantee, to be sure, with an optional percentage of the receipts, but, still, with fervor, eloquence and presumable sincerity. Yet in the great hour for really serving that cause Mr. Bryan has never spoken a word.

Adroit, determined and insatiably avaricious politician that he is, Mr. Bryan may again appear as the Democratic standard bearer. If he does, new millions will take pleasure in carrying out the Bryan formula—"Don't quote us as voting the Democratic ticket."

SOCRATES AND HIS PUPILS.

GLAUCON: Well, Socrates! What did you think of the campaign?
Socrates: It was a good campaign. I wish we might have one like it every four years.
Glaucou: You have never seemed to be very much interested in the outcome.
Socrates: Certainly not. When it got to the point where it became settled that we were going into the League of Nations irrespective of party victory, I interested myself in the phenomenon of a great country like this, which had never lifted its eyes beyond its own shores, discovering itself to be a part of the wide world.

Thrasymachus: You don't think the war did that for us?
Socrates: Yes I do. It did not, however, do more than interest us in our relation to the rest of the world, which we needed to discuss after the war in precisely the way we have done. Are you aware that a very interesting thing happened in the campaign?

Polemarchus: What was it?
Socrates: The Republicans set out to renounce the League of Nations utterly. You will recall that they did not mention it in their platform. However, they had not gone into the campaign very far until they found that the country is for joining the league and doing everything we can to end war. That was a surprise to the Republican leaders. It accounted for the advice to the Republican candidate from Senator Lodge and others to conciliate the irreconcilables in the party without estranging the pro-leaguers. This was a difficult role for a candidate, and I am sure we all sympathized with Senator Harding in trying to play it.

Thrasymachus: You think we were bound to go into the league anyway?
Socrates: Assuredly. That became evident early in the campaign. A great many people felt it, and that feeling accounted for the adhesion of all pro-league Republicans to their party. Had there been an actual division between those for and against the league the majority for the league would have been enormous. The Democrats were really despoiled of the opportunity to fight the campaign upon a strict division and have the solemn referendum the President wanted. They could not win the opposition Republicans, who felt that we were going into the league anyway, and that became a tremendous obstacle to Democratic success.

Glaucou: It is a good thing, don't you think, for us to orient ourselves in our proper relation to the rest of the world?
Socrates: An excellent thing, my dear Glaucou. It is not merely important politically, but commercially. We have become the world's chief creditor nation. We can occupy that position with profit to ourselves only by trading with the rest of the world. We had to discover it before we could do that. Happily we have discovered it, thanks first to the war and then the debate over the League of Nations.

Polemarchus: Everything is all right, then.
Socrates: I think so. Now let us buy a paper and see how they voted in sections of the country where they can't count very fast and the roads are bad.

Maybe Mr. Bryan will emerge from solitude and look at the election returns.

It is interesting in these stirring political times to read so much as one does about Grover Cleveland. You may not know that the personality of Mr. Cleveland is steadily growing, which enables us to see something of the phenomenon of fame. Most of us were here when Mr. Cleveland was President. One need not be very old to recall the first time he was elected, after a straight Republican reign of 24 years. He was beaten in 1888, and his strength was such that the Democrats came right back with him in 1892 and won again. What kind of a man was Mr. Cleveland? Not long ago the writer was talking to a girl in high school about Americans who had made their impress upon the country. She said she thought Grover Cleveland had done this to even a greater extent than Thomas Jefferson. Naturally, that amazed the writer somewhat, inasmuch as he had lived in the time of Mr. Cleveland without having been particularly impressed by him and had only heard of Thomas Jefferson by way of that myth which builds itself in time about most men whose names persevere. It seems that the historians have been finding Mr. Cleveland interesting. The consequence is that school children, who did not live in his time, really know more about him than most of us who did live in his time. Mr. Cleveland's is something of a conjured name among writers now. He had a quality which impresses them. It must be extremely rare, since they make so much of it. It was the quality of being blandly honest. There was no guile in Mr. Cleveland. He had an ordinary, honest mind which resolved everything into its true self exactly as grain is winnowed from chaff. Everything was sacked and labeled in Mr. Cleveland's mind. He knew which were the facts, which the flappoodle, which the truth and which the bunk. He never tried to fool anybody, and it was no use trying to fool him. Is it any wonder that he grows upon us, especially at a time when we are overwhelmed by sophistry and deceit?

It is too muddy in Missouri to know for a while whether we pulled the State out of the mud or not.

CHURCH WINDOWS.

THE stately service of this quietly church is dignified, efficient and serene—
The atmosphere of opulence and ease—
The sermon like a sea breeze, cool and clean;
The classic music of the salaried choir—
That breathes and swells and dies in anthems low—
But the windows with their red-blue jewel fire
Are like the little church of long ago.

That church was human; all who worshipped there
Were friendly, simple beings seeking truth.
That church was part of life; for praise and prayer
Were every day affairs from early youth.

The folks, themselves, composed a choir fine
Who had the gift for singing plain and sweet—
Who made you feel the promise in the line
"Until we meet again at Jesus' feet."

Most courtships started at its very door;
The boys grouped, waiting for the girls to pass.
"The low-voiced question, 'May I see you home?'"
The shy consent of every happy lass.

Courtship and marriage; christening and death;
The little church and life went hand in hand—
Nor dreamed the "Come to church tomorrow" plea
That daily papers run throughout the land.

COUNCIL FOR CHILD HEALTH.

From the Survey.
ONE of the most forward-looking steps in the field of child health is the recent organization of the American Council for Coordinating Child Health Activities. Offices of the council have been opened at the American Red Cross headquarters in Washington, with Courtney D. Widdie, formerly superintendent of the said Tuberculosis Association of Cincinnati, as the executive secretary. The formation of the council is partly a recognition of the danger that lies in too high a specialization without some cohesive force to bind special groups together. At present the council is made up of representatives of the American Child Hygiene Association, the National Organization for the Public Health Nursing, the American Red Cross, the Child Health Organization of America and the National Child Labor Committee, but it is expected that other organizations will be included as the movement progresses. A study will be made of the plans and programs of the constituent groups which will be used as a basis for working out a common plan of action.

LEAGUE MADE TREATY POSSIBLE.

From Le Correspondent (Paris).
THE League of Nations made the peace treaty possible; without the league many of the questions which were presented to the conference, questions involving world politics, were unsolvable. Whether we deplore the fact or not, we must admit that the general conception of President Wilson, for example, and the interests of certain European allies, conflicted to such a degree that an immediate understanding would have been impossible between the European nations themselves, or between them and Japan. Not only the United States, but England herself, was absolutely opposed to the French idea of military guarantees on the left bank of the Rhine. It was not only Serbia which refused to give up Flume and Dalmatia to Italy, it was the conscience of well-informed people everywhere. The German colonies could not have been divided without the League of Nations; the Turkish possessions and the question of Dantzig and of the Saar could not have been solved without its help. The League of Nations assures the application of the treaty and participates in it. It governs the territory of the Saar and, up to the present time, has governed to the satisfaction of all.

TREITSCHKE IN HISTORY.

PROF. ULLMANN in Prussian Historical Review.
AS a political theorist Treitschke always emphasized the inevitability of war, and as a descriptive historian he recognized without question the legality of territorial changes which were the outcome of war. He summarized his teaching in the dictum that the state is power; but in his eyes that power could be justified only by being employed for the highest moral welfare of mankind. Treitschke's whole nature forced him to believe that national policies must obey the laws of ethics, although experience might reveal instances when governments must violate positive laws, particularly if their refusal to do so were tantamount to national suicide and therefore morally unjustifiable. All his thought and teaching can be summed up in his insistence that the German people must be inspired with a manly political self-consciousness; with spiritual and physical, intellectual and practical energy, and elasticity of spirit, so that in the hour of need they would not fail in case their security, their opportunity for progress, their vital interests were ever threatened. To attain this it was not necessary to be constantly thinking of war. He regarded the army not only as a guaranty of political independence but as an instrument for developing the manly virtues.

DEEP IN THE BUSHES by HOLWORTHY HALL

AT THE end of the sixth inning, McHenry was suddenly struck with a brilliant idea. He put on his new glasses, and, after a moment's pause, chuckled happily.

"What's the joke?" demanded Dillingham.

"I can't see a thing," rejoined Pepper. "Oh, blessed relief! Has anybody made another error yet?"

"Give 'em a chance," exhorted Roger Ward, moving aside from a too insinuating splinter in the bleachers. "Nobody's hit the ball yet. How about a smoke?"

Having lighted their cigars, they settled into their seats, and surveyed the field with due appreciation. For a professional field it was somewhat enlightening to three young men accustomed to the level expanse of the Polo Grounds.

"What I don't understand," said McHenry, thoughtfully, "is why they don't even it up more—flatten it out. Plow it, for instance. It isn't fair to the man at the bat, when the pitcher can crawl down a gully and shoot at him from ambush!"

"This must be some league," admitted Dillingham. "Notice the seething mob in the grand stand. There must be 12 people here if there's a dozen! Do you get the uniforms? I don't see any two alike."

"Don't talk so loud!" admonished Ward. "Personally, I think they ought to be disguised."

Here the batsman grounded sharply to the Greystone third baseman, who threw into the bleachers. By the time the catcher recovered the runner was naturally to third again. Ball and runner arrived simultaneously in the dust, and the ball got away. The runner, encouraged by the score of 12 to 2 in favor of the visitors, scrambled to his feet and charged for home; whereupon the Greystone third baseman heaved lustily into the grand stand. McHenry led the cheering with vast success.

"It's a home run!" said Ward.

"Never! It's four errors for third!"

"Score it any way you want to—I'm going to quit!" declared McHenry. "Maybe that rich but honest mechanic has doctored up the car by this time, and, anyway, if I stay here any longer, I'll begin to cry! Let's leave."

Accordingly, they left, and walked back to the garage, where McHenry's motor was undergoing repairs to everything but the horn.

"How is she—all right?" he inquired.

"All right?" echoed the mechanic. "Say, it'll take me 12 hours to put this machine in shape for the road! Your valves need grinding, and your cylinders are full of carbon, and the piston rings have worked around so the openings are in a line, and the oil's got through, and I don't believe your differential's had any lubrication for the last five years!"

"Three," corrected Pepper. "I've only had it three years."

"Well, besides, your tank leaks, and you've got some bad wiring, and there's a hole in the hose connection, and your batteries are almost dead!"

"Otherwise, she's in good condition, isn't she?" asked Pepper anxiously. "Can't you fix her up so we can get out of here tonight?"

"Try some safety pins, or a rubber band," suggested Dillingham.

"Or hot glue," said Ward.

"You can't start until tomorrow noon, at the earliest," declared the mechanic.

The three looked at each other lugubriously.

"Back to the Mansion House," prophesied Pepper.

"Monday night—corned-beef hash! Well, we'd better go and sit on the veranda and get hungry—if we don't, we'll be sorry."

"I wonder what the final score was?" said Dillingham, as the trio occupied adjoining chairs on the hotel porch overlooking the Busy Corner, the Strand Theater Devoted to Refined Motion Pictures, and the two-story edifice labeled "Sentinel Building."

"Thirteen to six," said a long-jawed man in a cane-seated rocking chair.

"Thank you. Did you hear that?" he added to his friends. "We kept 'em from scoring for two whole innings! And it wasn't raining, either!"

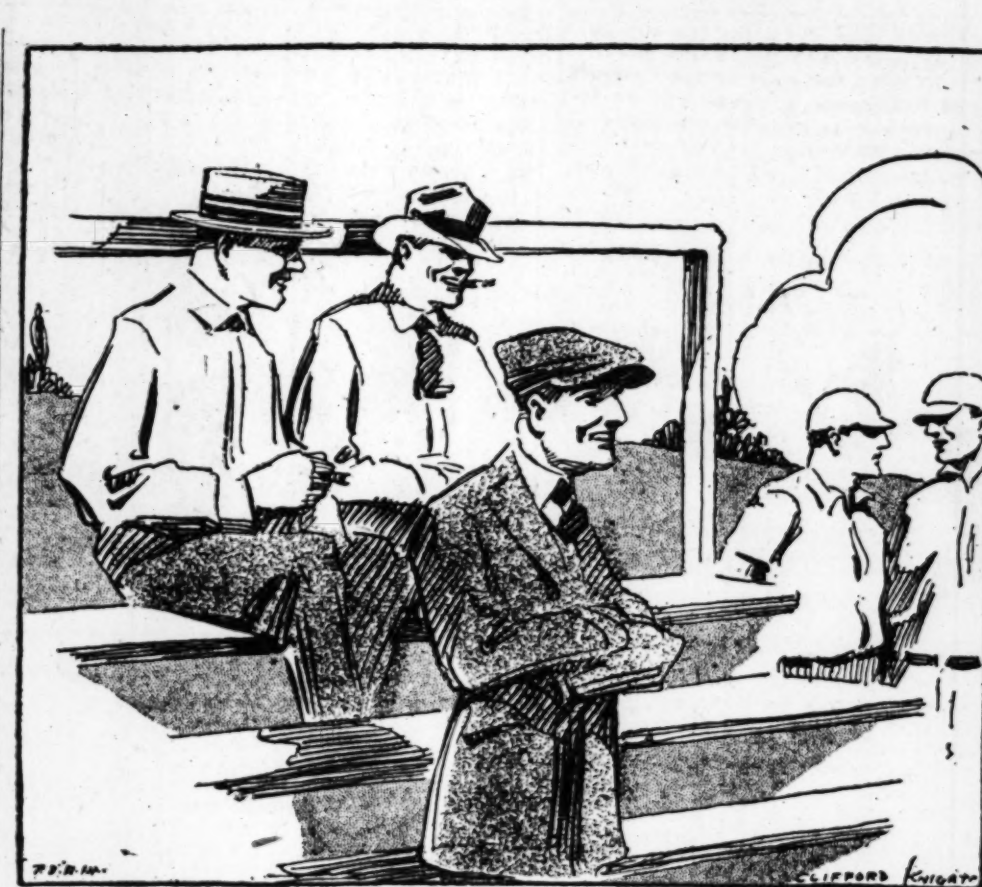

"I always thought it would be a lot of fun to run a ball team in a small city," said McHenry. "This is just big enough. There must be about 25,000 here—you could do stunts that wouldn't go in a bigger place, and there ought to be enough money in it to make it worth while. Just for a sort of summer vacation, I mean."

"But it costs a lot to buy a franchise."

"It ought to be a scream," agreed Dillingham, "but it's too risky—you have to put up too much money to start."

The long-jawed man stared at them curiously, and bitched his chair toward McHenry.

"Yes," said Pepper. "Even in a town like this, I suppose, a team couldn't be bought for less than say nine or ten thousand."

Having lighted their cigars, they settled again into their seats and surveyed the field with due appreciation.

"Too much—when admission's 15 to 30 cents."

"I'd treat it as recreation," said Dillingham. "I wouldn't expect to make a profit—the question would simply be, how much to pay for the fun. But wouldn't it make a grand vacation?"

"Say," remarked the long-jawed man. "Do you fellows want to buy a rotten ball team, or are you just talking to hear yourselves talk?"

Presently, when he had recovered from his astonishment, McHenry said: "What difference does that make?"

"Nothing—only I own this Greystone team. We've won six games and lost 19, and I'm two thousand in the hole already. Inside of two hours I'll throw it overboard, that's all. If you want to put three thousand cash, you can have the whole shooting match, and I don't care who knows it!"

"Three thousand dollars for a franchise!"

"Franchise and debts?"

"Well, what are the debts?"

"Salaries—six hundred."

The trio, taken by surprise, exchanged glances.

"Far be it from me to swindle you young fellows," continued the long-jawed man. "I thought same as you do—any fool could take a ball team and make money out of it. I couldn't—maybe you'd be lucky, and maybe you wouldn't. Search me! But if I can get out what I put in it, I'm willing to quit right now. Of all the dead, slow, hopeless, lackadaisical towns I ever saw in my sweet life, this is it! Don't accuse me of living here—my home's in Hoboken. If the team had ever made a cent, I wouldn't sell, would I? It hasn't. But you look as though you like quick action. All right. You can get it two ways—match John D. Rockefeller for thousand-dollar bills, or buy a ball team. The price is three thousand. Have a cigar."

"Well," said Pepper, "this looks like a pretty lively town—don't you ever draw a crowd?"

"Opening day, it was packed. We lost, 5 to 0. Next day, 500. We lost, 7 to 2. Next day, 300. We lost, 11 to 4. Next day, 200. We lost, 10 to 7."

"You want to get some better players, then."

"You can't! You got to keep your expenses down."

"Then you've got to get the crowd coming."

"That's the answer! You've got to. Well I can't. I ran this outfit last season, and dropped four thousand. This year I got some different men, and painted the bleachers, and I'm losing money every day. So, if you fellows want to get a little experience in a mighty short time, here's your opportunity."

McHenry looked at Dillingham; Dillingham looked at Ward, Ward smiled brightly at McHenry.

"Of course, we'd want to look into it a bit!"

"I live upstairs. I'll show you the books any time."

"Would you take $25 for a 10-day option?"

"No, sir! I'll lose two hundred and fifty in 10 days. I was going to notify the league tonight—and they'd probably keep the thing going just long enough to transfer the team to some other town. As a corporation, the Greystone Baseball Club's bankrupt."

"Will you take twenty-five for the option for 12 hours?"

"Well, I might do that."

"You might, but will you?"

"Well—"

"Here's the twenty-five!"

"Done!" said the long-jawed man; and he grinned sardonically. "First, clear profit in two seasons!"

"Now," said McHenry, "if you want to give my two partners here the benefit of a little of your experience, I'll be back in half an hour, and we can get together and talk business."

"Why, where are you going?" asked Ward and Dillingham.

"Watch me," said Pepper; and he got up and went across the street and disappeared behind the door of the Greystone Sentinel.

Over the number plate on the door of his bedroom at the Mansion House, McHenry tacked a placard reading:

BUSINESS OFFICE

Greystone B. B. C.

"There," he said. "Now when Ty Cobb comes hunting for a job, he'll know where to knock!"

"If I'd known," said Dillingham, "that we'd have to live here all summer, I might have voted differently. The spring on my bed isn't so bad, but the corn husk has edges."

"We'll buy some mattresses ourselves," Pepper assured him. "Now, if you'll come in and look prosperous, we'll order the first consignment."

At a marble-topped table the triumvirate sat in solemn conclave. Each had a pile of catalogues before him, and Ward, as secretary, had stationery and ink and what was once a pen.

"Chewing gum," said Dillingham, "is first. We can get a fearfully inside price if we take a gross of boxes."

"Take 'em," said McHenry. "And don't be afraid of ordering lots of cigars. Whatever you do, pick out fat ones, with gaudy bands, and if they've got gilt shrouds around 'em, so much the better."

"Twenty cases of pop," announced Ward. "It figures down to a cent and a half a bottle, and we get a nickel."

"One gross of palm-leaf fans, two dozen umbrellas and 50 rule books," said Dillingham. "And a dozen pairs of smoked glasses."

"Make it six dozen," ordered McHenry. "Local youth, with beautiful girls in new hats. Nail 'em right at the entrance. I've got a lad who'll work the machine for a season pass and 20 per cent commission. Order a camera, and tell the people that if they'll knock 10 off the price, we'll paint 'em a sign on the centerfield fence."

"Oh!" said Ward, abruptly. "You told me to remind you of some newspapers, or something."

"That's so! We want about 50 papers a day—first editions of the war news—and all the extras. You see, the whole scheme is to train the crowd into the buying habit. We don't want anybody to escape without letting go of at least a quarter a day."

To Be Continued Tomorrow and Friday and Concluded Saturday.

Fables for the Fair

By Marguerite Mooers Marshall.

SHE was an Office Vamp—She wore the shortest skirts, The thinnest silk stockings, And knew 57 ways of a grouch her allies.

When her boss had a grouch She admired his neckties, If anybody criticized her spelling She smiled pathetically, And her eyes were wet violets, And she bristled like a porcupine.

"Oh—er—never mind!" When she wanted an address She asked the nearest man to look it up for her—

Which he did, gratefully, She smiled sweetly at all the other girls.

But made ingenious little spite-talked comments about them When she lunched with the men. The plural is used advisedly, for an Office Vamp is never satisfied with ONE man.

Her little tentacles wound around even the office boy and the elevator operator—

The former was trained to bring her tea-water; The latter presented her with chocolate.

In a shop run by a woman manager The Office Vamp would have lasted about five seconds, But where all the hirsers and frisers were men She was voted "a nice little girl," "a blue-eyed baby," "some doll," "a cute little chicken!"

Terms that represent the modern male's furthest flights of romantic imagination!

And everybody thought it a shame such a dainty, delicate creature should have to go out in the world and WORK!

The Office Vamp was as healthy as a little pig. Of course she married one of the assistant managers—the best match in the place—

And all the efficient stenographers and filing clerks had the fun of buying her a wedding present.

For which she thanked them sweetly, patronizingly, when she called at the office in her own six-cylinder car after her honeymoon.

What were they but successful business women—whereas she was a Daring success!

TEA IN TOWN.

Isn't it nice to be back, where the shaded electric glow, Whispering gossip or love, while the violins sweet and low Ewing to the old refrain! Meeting the people you know, Chattering of this and that, watching the Passing Show!

That, for the call of the wild! That, for the song of the seal Sweeter the voice of the Town, calling to you and me! Out of silk and light, frolic and filigree, Oh, but it's nice to be back—flirting, again, at TEA!

Somewhat, marriage seems to take all the romance out of a girl's beautiful dream of darning a man's socks!

A man actually occupies only about six feet of space; but when he hangs around the house, Sunday mornings, he manages to fill all the rooms and the garden and then spill over.

When you tell a man that a girl has "common sense," he always pictures her as the kind who would keep her husband's old love-letters, his insurance policy and her decree of divorce, all in the same safety vault.

"For better or for worse," is not an idle phrase in the marriage ceremony. A man always turns out to be either a lot better or a lot worse than you ever suspected, before marriage.

The most difficult feat of a girl's life is to assume that look of glad surprise that a man expects when he proposes to her. HE is so astonished at himself that he naturally expects her to be!

A woman's faith is never lost—but it is often dreadfully misplaced.

Chatterer Becomes Acquainted.

CHATTERER isn't in the least bashful. In fact, I know of no one less bashful than Chatterer the Red Squirrel. He isn't afraid to use his tongue. Some people call him impudent because he uses his tongue so freely. But he doesn't mind this at all. He keeps right on using that tongue of his, and the result is he knows about all there is to know in regard to his neighbors and their affairs.

For awhile after the discovery of that big red-coated stranger under his favorite hickory tree Chatterer kept his tongue still and was content to keep out of sight and watch. But the longer he watched the greater became his curiosity. He wanted to know who this stranger was and what his business was. When his curiosity became so great he could no longer stand it, he decided to use his tongue.

Chatterer seated himself on a limb in plain sight of the stranger and coughed. It was a very slight cough. The stranger took no notice of it. Chatterer coughed louder. The stranger looked up.

"Hello," said Chatterer.

"Hello yourself," replied the stranger, good naturedly.

"Who are you?" demanded Chatterer bluntly.

"Me? Why, I'm a Squirrel. Don't you recognize a member of your own family when you see him?" replied the stranger with a twinkle in his eyes. Chatterer saw that twinkle and it provoked him. He felt that inside the stranger was laughing at him, and that there is one thing Chatterer cannot stand it is being laughed at. He opened his mouth for a sharp retort and then thought better of it.

"Yes," said he meekly. "I know a member of my family when I see him. Of course you are one of my cousins. But I never have seen you before and I was wondering what your name is."

"Rusty," replied the stranger promptly. "I'm Rusty the Fox Squirrel."

"Are you just passing through here on your way to some other place?" asked Chatterer, looking rather anxiously at the fat hickory nuts on the ground.

Rusty picked up a fat hickory nut and turned it over two or three times to find the best place to open it. "No," said he. "No, I can't say that I am. The fact is I have decided to settle here in the Green Forest. I like it. I like these fat hickory nuts. They are the best I've ever found. I think I can live here very comfortably and happily. I hope you won't object to having a new neighbor, especially a member of your own family."

Rusty said this most politely, but his eyes twinkled with mischief. They are the best I've ever found. I think I can live here very comfortably and happily. I hope you won't object to having a new neighbor, especially a member of your own family."

"Won't you come down and enjoy these fat hickory nuts with me?" he added slyly.

That was too much for Chatterer. Yes, sir, that was just a little more than Chatterer could stand. You know, he considered those fat hickory nuts his very own. That was his special tree. Anyway, that is what he claimed, although right down in his heart he knew it didn't belong to him any more than to others.

"Those are my nuts! You can't have them!" he barked sharply.

"If they are yours come take them!" retorted Rusty, and his eyes twinkled more than ever.

IS THIS YOUR TYPE?

By MARIE LA ROQUE

Have You Green Eyes?

Julie Griswold
Mme. Adam had bright green eyes.

and attractive." Repeatedly he refers to them as green.

Usually, too, these green-eyed ladies of fiction are like Becky, small and slight and usually they are "odd and attractive." Jane Eyre, although not depicted by her creator, Charlotte Brontë, as either deceitful or coquettish, might have been regarded by those who did not like her as both. Charlotte Brontë has Jane give this account of Mr. Rochester's greeting with her on the morning after she had promised to marry him:

"Is this my pale little elf? Is this my mustered seed? This little, sunny-faced girl with the dimpled cheek and rosy lips; the satin smooth hair, and the radiant hazel eyes?" (I had green eyes, reader; but you must excuse the mistake; for him they were new-dyed, I suppose.)

And that is always the way. Although you may feel that there is some secret fascination about green eyes, and you may feel that the green-eyed woman is a little more dangerous than any other sort of woman, still you don't feel like telling her that her eyes are green and so you call them gray.

The Spanish are rather outspoken in their attitude toward green eyes, but the Spanish green eye was the brown eye that inclines to green tints, and not the gray-green eye. They are repeatedly praised in old Spanish ballads, although even the Spanish admit that they show deceit and coquetry. The Hindus admired what they call green eyes, but with them there is the belief that the green-eyed person is "courageous but foolish."

Balzac apparently has not the popular notion of the meaning of green eyes, for he gives them to Henrietta, Mme. de Mortsauf, whom he apparently regards as the model of wifely virtue and all that is opposite to coquetry and intrigue.

"Her eyes were greenish with spots of hazel, and always pale in color," says Balzac. "If she were betrayed into any vehement emotion of joy or grief her eye could flash with a subtle flame which seemed to have derived its fire from the deepest springs of life."

However, Eugene Sue seems to have had the characteristic notion of green-eyed women and when he came to describe the false but fascinating Mme. de Penfret in "Arthur" he made her green-eyed. Like Becky Sharp's her eyes were cast down. "Her large eyes, which she kept half closed," says he, "were of a changeable greenish shade, almost iridescent, and her eyebrows were beautifully arched above them."

Mme. Juliette Adam, famous French editor and writer, is one of the few women of actual everyday life who had green eyes and these she inherited from her grandmother, Mme. Seron, who brought her up. Her famous granddaughter says she had "superb teeth, a delicate nose with sensitive nostrils; bright green eyes, and her very white skin was dotted with freckles." Needless to say Mme. Seron had red hair, for this bright green eye plus freckles is seldom found without its complement of red hair.

French Knots and Bars.

FRENCH knots are used in line decoration, and when nicely made, are a very dainty way of trimming certain spaces in clothing, as those between groups of tucks. To make a French knot, bring the needle up on the right side of the cloth at the point where the knot is to be made, then holding the left thread near the cloth with the left hand, wind it two or more times around the point of the needle, according to the size of the knot desired, stick the point of the needle back into the cloth very near the place where it came through, push the coil of thread on the needle down close to the cloth, and holding it with the left thumb, pull the needle through to the wrong side. The coil of thread thus left on the surface of the cloth forms the knot.

To finish the ends of set-in or tailored pockets, the ends of seams, or the stitching of plaits, various ornaments are used, the commonest being the bar. To make a bar at the end of a pocket, bring the needle up on the outer row of stitching on one side, and put it through at the outer row of stitching on the other side, thus making one long stitch across the end of the pocket; repeat two, three, or more times, according to the number of the thread used, and the size of the bar desired, being careful always to put the needle through the same holes each time at both ends of the stitch. Do not make the bar too heavy for the cloth.

Now bring the needle up at one end of the bar, and exactly below it; put the needle through to the wrong side above the bar exactly opposite where it just came up, making a small stitch straight across the long threads of the bar; bring the needle up again below the bar close beside the first stitch, and repeat, thus covering the long threads with a plain stitch over and over. It is necessary to bring the needle up, and to push it through with two motions, to make sure that the long stitches of the bar are covered on the wrong side as well as on the right.

COCOANUT COOKIES

CREAM one-half cupful butter and one cupful sugar; add one egg, beaten light, one-quarter cupful milk and one-half cupful shredded cocoanut. Add two cupfuls flour and one teaspoonful baking powder, roll thin and bake in a quick oven.

In Pomerania, Germany, where wives complain that husbands are lazy and will not work and support them there has been a 600 per cent increase in the number of divorces as compared with the period before the war.

A trade heretofore monopolized by men, that of house building, is being rapidly encroached upon in England by women. Already a firm styled Women Builders has opened offices in London and begun work on several operations.

One in Every Three Women Is Stout!

But some do not look so— They wear "Stylish Stout" Corsets

These Corsets, with their new principle of designing, eliminate all thought of overweight from the observer's mind. That is the reason many a smartly gown woman of your acquaintance escapes the "overweight" classification.

No woman who cares about being modishly dressed will willingly identify herself with "stout" people when "Stylish Stout" Corsets reduce one's measurements from three to five inches, and give an appearance of at least twenty pounds lighter weight—all with absolute comfort and perfect poise.

"Stylish Stout" Brassieres are as essential to a smart foundation above the waist as the Corsets are below it. For sale at good stores everywhere.

SCIENTIFIC FARMING.

No more the farmer has to rise
Before the break of day;
To plough and sow and rake and mow
And till the waving hay.
The plough is rusting in the barn;
He's left the harrow flat;
All toil he's spurned, for he has learned
A trick worth two of that.

For in the autumn of the year,
When motor parties fare
In winding trains along the lanes
To get the country air,
The farmer sets beside the road
A bountiful supply
Of produce which the idle rich Immediately buy.

They throng about the rustic shelves
He strings along the way;
They grab whatever is vended there,
And gracious, how they pay!
And when the village savings bank
Is groaning with its wealth,
When flies the snow, the farmer goes
To Europe for his health.

And how, you ask, can this be done,
When in the gentle spring
The farmer and his hired hand
Do not a single thing?
The answer is an easy one.
And so we for it down,
The truck supply, the suckers buy,
Is all sent out from town.

CRACKING UNDER THE STRAIN.
Prices may not be coming down, but they're not taking the lull in high gear they way they used to.

Sport for the Crows.

The bucolic one had been asked his opinion of scarecrows.
"No good at all," he grunted—
"leastways, against the crows in this district! Only last year we put up what we thought was a fine scarecrow—a man pointing a gun."
"Why, what happened?"
"Well, all the crows in the world seemed to be feeding in that field, and while one crow perched on the gun and worked the trigger, another was falling down pretending to be shot."—Edinburgh Scotsman.

Simple Addition.

Teacher—Now, Willie, if I gave you five rabbits and then four more,
how many would you have?
Willie—Ten.
Teacher—How do you make that out?
Willie—Well, I have one at home already.—San Francisco Chronicle.

Didn't Have the Price.

Returning home from the dentist's where he had gone to have a loose tooth drawn, little Raymond reported as follows: "The doctor told me 'fore he began that if I cried or screamed it would cost me a dollar, but if I was a good boy it would be only 50 cents."
"Did you scream?" his mother asked.
"How could I?" answered Ray.
"You only gave me 50 cents."
